Civil Service Board Delays Plea Of Policemen For Another Week

CHAIRMAN BUSY DISPENSING 1937 TAGS FOR CARS

Informal Meeting Conducted Monday Evening In Effort to Establish Date

ANOTHER CONFAB PLANNED

Shasteen, Radcliff Seek Pay For Six Days' Time

The Civil Service Commission's hearing of appeals of Patrolman Alva Shasteen and Carl Radcliff will not be held until the rush for 1937 automobile license tags is completed.

James McLaughlin, chairman of the commission, is also deputy registrar of motor vehicles. Automobiles cannot be driven with 1936 license tags after Wednesday, so Mr. McLaughlin will probably be kept busy for the next few days.

The commission met in an informal session in City Hall Monday evening with all members, Mr. McLaughlin, Harry L. Bartholomew, and James Wickenseimer, present. Another meeting will be held early next week to consider a date for the hearing.

Six Days' Pay Sought

The patrolmen are seeking pay for six days they lost when suspended by Police Chief W. F. McCrady. Safety Director C. O. Caskey returned them to their jobs after he heard charges brought against them, but declared they would have to go without six days' salaries.

Shasteen and Radcliff appealed to the commission, seeking complete exoneration of charges they violated regulations and refused to follow orders of their superiors.

FRENCH BUILDING STRONG DEFENSE

Famous Maginot Line of Fortresses to Be Extended to English Channel and to Switzerland Border

By WEBB MILLER

PARIS, March 30.—(Via London).—(UP)—France, in her feverish efforts to make herself impregnable in the next war which all Europe seems to expect, is building across her frontier the greatest defensive works since the Chinese wall.

And that is only one aspect of her staggering re-armament program, although it is by far the most spectacular.

The famous Maginot line of underground steel and concrete fortresses, already built along the northern border fronting Germany, is to be extended to the English channel and to Switzerland, at a cost of $91,000,000.

25,000 Troops Man It

The existing Maginot line already is permanently manned by at least 25,000 professional troops (not conscripts), serving an unlimited term of service.

Miss Rosa Barthelmas, 68, lifelong resident of Pickaway county, died Monday at 11 p. m. at her home in Wayne township. Complications, following an illness of several months, caused death.

Miss Barthelmas was born May 7, 1868, a daughter of George and Barbara Barthelmas, both natives of Germany. Her parents, three brothers, Frank, William and Charles, and a sister, Sarah, preceded her in death.

WATER SUPPLY FAILS, COUNTY HOME IS RAZED

All household goods, except dishes and a few small articles, were saved when the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Karshner on the George Kirk farm, was razed by fire Monday.

The farm is located on the Clarksburg road two miles southeast of New Holland. Mr. Karshner discovered the fire during the noon hour. It was believed caused by a defective flue. It made its first appearance in the back part of the second floor.

New Holland firemen were able to put the flames under control, but shortage of water resulted in the fire gaining new headway. The building was destroyed. The structure, a 6-room bungalow, was built 22 years ago. It was covered by insurance.

Mr. and Mrs. Karshner will make their new home at Kirkwood, on another farm owned by Mr. Kirk, during the rebuilding. The Karshner family removed from the Wright farm, east of New Holland, to the Kirk property, one month ago.

$55,000 DAMAGE SUIT FOLLOWS PLANE TRAGEDY

TROY, March 30.—(UP)—A $55,000 damage suit was filed in common pleas court here today on behalf of Bessie and G. C. Culver of Dallas county, Texas, against the Waco Aircraft Co., of Troy in connection with the death of George L. Culver in an airplane accident in Texas Feb. 16, 1936.

The parents charged in their petition that defective workmanship on the airplane caused the accident. Mrs. Culver asked $30,000 damages and Culver $25,000. They stated they were dependent upon their son.

The petition stated that accident, in which Culver and his pilot were killed, occurred when an aileron in the right wing went out of control. It alleged a ball-bearing fitting became unfastened.

BIG CHIMPANZEE AND MATE MAUL KEEPER OF ZOO

CHICAGO, March 30.—(UP)—Arthur Aitken, clawed by a 300-pound chimpanzee before 180 terrified zoo visitors, was reported in serious condition at Oak Park's West Suburban hospital today.

A hundred and fifty school children and about 30 adults watched Headkeeper Aitken as he started out to feed the apes in the "Monkey House" of the Chicago zoological park Monday afternoon.

Aitken carried a bucket of fruit and vegetables, walked down a narrow runway between the cages and a glass partition erected to prevent the animals from throwing things among the spectators.

As he passed the chimpanzee cage, "Big Mike," purchased in Cuba in 1934, reached through the bars and seized his right arm. Mizl, Mike's mate, seized the keeper's left arm and pinioned him to the cage bars.

Aitken was powerless. He struggled and screamed for help. The visitors fled from the house in terror, as Mike clawed the keeper's arms and slammed him against the bars.

Abe Parrot, Aitken's assistant, heard his cries, rushed out with a club, and beat the animals until they released the keeper, badly mangled.

SUPREME COURT MOVES TOWARD WAGNER RULING

Labor and Industry Watch as Judges Clear Way for Decision

New Deal 100 Percent in Present Session

WASHINGTON, March 30.—(UP)—Opinions reversing precedents and validating New Deal legislation headed the supreme court toward its Wagner Labor Act decision today—a decision of vital importance to labor and industry and the outcome of the controversy surrounding the court itself.

The Wagner act cases, growing in importance with the spread of labor strife, remained the most important undecided issue on the court's docket with the disposition of a series of cases, decision of which may affect the lives of millions.

It appeared certain that the women's minimum wage laws enacted by 16 states and the District of Columbia might become immediately operative as a result of the tribunal having completely reversed itself yesterday to uphold such legislation.

Provisions Sustained

Many of the provisions of the Wagner Labor Relations act also were believed sustained as a result of the court's ruling on the Railway Labor act. The decision (Continued on Page Eight.)

CONFAB AWAITS LEWIS' RETURN TO END STRIFE

LANSING, Mich., March 30.—(UP)—A deadlock over the United Automobile Workers' demand for sole collective bargaining rights in the plants of Chrysler Corporation was reported today as union leaders resumed their conferences with the millionaire manufacturer, Walter P. Chrysler.

The seventh day of the conferences in the executive offices of Gov. Frank Murphy found the conferees in agreement on immediate reopening of nine closed Chrysler plants in the Detroit area and on further negotiations over alleged grievances, if a solution to the exclusive bargaining rights problem can be found.

Close advisors to the conferees believed that the deadlock would continue until John L. Lewis, chairman of the Committee for Industrial Organization, returns from Appalachian Coal conferences in New York City.

LEGISLATORS ENJOY 'HOWLING' SESSION, VOTE WOLF BOUNTY

COLUMBUS, March 30.—(UP)—Rep. R. J. Kiefer, R., Logan county dirt farmer, proclaimed his bill providing a $10 county for the scalps of wolves and coyotes a "howling success" today.

Everyone entered into the spirit of the occasion when the bill came up for a vote last night—to such an extent, in fact, Rep. Kiefer had quite a little difficulty making himself heard above the blood-curdling howls that rose from every corner of the house chamber.

The howling began quietly in one section of the chamber when Speaker Frank Uible announced the bill. As Kiefer stood up the baying increased until it reached a terrifying pitch.

Noise of Coyotes

"If you gentlemen ever heard wolves howl," Kiefer shouted above the tumult, "I think you'd say that noise came from coyotes."

Kiefer managed to explain, at least to reporters sitting directly in front of him, that eight wolves had been killed in his county in the past year; that two packs were known to be roaming in the county, killing sheep and raising general havoc and that the bill was amended to include coyotes after two of those prairie wolves had been killed in the western part of the county.

By this time, the call of the bobwhite had been added to the uproar—reminiscent of another (Continued on Page Eight.)

TWO MEN FLEE OHIO BANK WITH $1,500 IN LOOT

HURON, March 30.—(UP)—Two men robbed the Berlin Heights Banking Co. here of an estimated $1,500 today.

The men entered the bank shortly before noon when there were no customers. They commanded H. G. Waite, cashier, and his assistant to "stick 'em up" and then proceeded to take all the money in sight.

They ran from the bank and entered a parked car outside with motor running and headed south. Soon after the alarm was given, officers gave chase.

According to sheriff's officials in Sandusky, five miles away, the two bandits had been located a few miles south of here and it was considered only a short time before they would be apprehended.

SIX NEW LEVIES CONSIDERED FOR STATE APPROVAL

Another Cent May Be Put On Cigaret Sales to Aid Relief Fund

SOME ACTION CERTAIN

Ruth Lloyd, Chairman, Says More Income Needed

COLUMBUS, March 30.—(UP)—With only two weeks left until the stop-gap relief bill expires, the house taxation committee today began hearings on six possible revenue-raising measures, including proposals to impose additional one cent levies on cigarettes and sales.

The cigarette increase, Rep. Ruth Lloyd, D., Soloto, chairman of the committee, estimated would raise an additional $2,250,000 for the remainder of the year while the sales tax proposal would yield between $7,000,000 and $10,000,000 more in 1937.

Utility Tax Eyed

The committee also studied a utility tax on telephone, light and gas bills, estimated to produce $7,500,000, an increase from three to ten percent in the admissions tax, yielding an additional $1,500,000, a half-cent increase in the liquid fuel tax, producing $4,500,000 more and a proposal to remove cosmetics from the sales tax classification and levy a straight 10 per cent tax on them. This would produce about $900,000.

All told the levies would produce a maximum of about $26,500,000 for the remainder of 1937. Miss Lloyd pointed out, however, that the committee would probably accept only one or two of the taxes for consideration.

At the same time, however, Sen. Keith Lawrence, D., Cuyahoga, majority floor leader, reiterated his belief that the senate would insist on adjournment at the end of this month.

Sen. Lawrence introduced the April 15 adjournment resolution.

Special Session Aired

He said it was "quite possible" the senate would go home before any legislation was adopted to take care of relief when the stop-gap bill expires April 15. He said he still favored the proposal, which has strong support of the "Yoder bloc," to hold a special session possibly sometime in June for sole consideration.

SEVEN CONVICTS PUNISHED AFTER PRISON UPRISING

FLORENCE, Ariz., March 30.—(UP)—Seven ringleaders were reported in solitary confinement today as punishment for a two-hour riot of 400 convicts at the Arizona state prison.

The prisoners overturned mess tables and shouted defiance in a rebellion against prison food. They also complained against several prison officials. They were subdued without injuries.

Warden A. J. Barnes blamed idleness for the trouble. Many guards have been absent hunting John Quantrell, escaped murderer, and the curtailed crew is insufficient to keep the prisoners at their usual tasks.

Of this number 2,593 gained access to the courtroom which normally seats approximately 300. They were admitted in relays.

Visitors are counted on entering the building and again on entering the courtroom by guards at each entrance.

FUEL TAX CASH MAY BE TAKEN FROM SCHOOLS

COLUMBUS, March 30 — (UP) — Repeal of the law earmarking revenues from the one cent liquid fuel tax for school purposes was provided for in a joint resolution pending before the house today.

The resolution, introduced by Rep. Giles F. Guthrie, D., Portage, declared the law "unsound and unjust" and "open to serious criticism" on the grounds the funds were needed for the "immediate development of additional highways and streets."

Rep. Guthrie proposed the establishment of a six-member commission, composed of three members from each house, to study other means of taxation to replace the liquid fuel tax, which expires March 31, 1939.

The resolution contended the levy was a sales tax "far exceeding that imposed within the state upon the sales of other commodities" and added that "even after its imposition, it appears the school fund is inadequately supported for its minimum obligations."

Farm Agent Suggests Increase in Alfalfa

There must be some relation between large alfalfa acreages in some states and the fact that those states have the best soil fertility balances, according to Ross M. Work, Bellefontaine, county agricultural agent, who is recommending that farmers in that county and in the rest of Ohio increase their alfalfa acreages.

The amount of alfalfa in Ohio increased about 100 per cent from 1929 to 1934 but even then the total amount of alfalfa was less than five acres out of every 100 acres of crop land in the state. Mr. Work says when you consider the value of alfalfa for feed, in improving soil, and as a control for soil erosion, it is apparent that the state needs more of this crop.

As a feed, the alfalfa can be used as pasture or as hay. Good alfalfa hay cuts down the amount of concentrates needed in rations for dairy cattle and for other classes of livestock, so it is possible to reduce feed bills on farms where there is a good supply. Many Ohio farmers use alfalfa pasture and have no trouble with animals bloating when they use proper precautions in turning the stock on alfalfa the first time.

High in Legumes List
Alfalfa probably heads the lists as a soil improver. Agronomists at the University say that alfalfa puts more fertility back in the soil in one year than a good corn crop takes out. The plants take nitrogen from the air and store it in the soil and also leave a large quantity of roots which furnish needed organic matter.

Haines M. Reichel, Dayton, soil conservation service, agrees with Mr. Work on the value of alfalfa in preventing soil erosion. "Alfalfa not only works well in crop rotations but it can be seeded and left down for a number of years in ment practices on fields seeded in Ohio with unadapted seed. Only seed grown in northern states or in Canada is recommended for use on Ohio farms. Unadapted alfalfa seed has a certain percentage stained red or orange red.

Mr. Work states that almost twice as much lime was sold in Logan county in 1936 as in 1935 so it is apparent that farmers in that county are preparing their lands to produce alfalfa or other legumes. Some lands do not need lime, but a soil test should be made to find whether or not the soil is acid. All county agricultural agents can give information about this soil test and make recommendations for preparing the soil to plant alfalfa.

Science hasn't improved life so much. There was always ease and comfort for those who had the jack to pay for it.

FIFTY MEN MEET MONDAY TO TALK OF ORGANIZATION

Fifty local craftsmen and laborers, meeting in the Veterans of Foreign Wars post room Monday night, postponed formation of a permanent organization until more members are added to the movement.

Seventeen men signed for memberships Monday night boosting the total to 45. Other meetings will be held weekly to create more interest in the movement. To date no name has been selected for the organization.

Frank A. Marion, temporary chairman of the group, announced he had conferred with Columbus officials of the American Federation of Labor and was informed the organization could not be recognized except by trades. Letters have been sent to other labor groups for information, but replies have not been received.

Monday night's meeting consisted of a general discussion of plans for the organization by Mr. Marion and other members. The purpose of the group is to boost employment of Circleville men on Circleville projects.

Janet Gaynor says: "Leading artists of the screen prefer Luckies"

"I live at the beach most of the year and there is hardly a weekend that a number of friends don't drop in. Naturally, I keep several brands of cigarettes on hand for guests, but the Luckies are always the first to disappear. I suppose it's just natural that Luckies would be the favorite brand because most of my friends in pictures have discovered that the long hours of rehearsing and shooting at the studio place a severe tax on the throat. Leading artists of the screen prefer Luckies because they are a light smoke that sympathizes with tender throats."

FEMINE STAR OF DAVID O. SELZNICK'S TECHNICOLOR PRODUCTION OF "A STAR IS BORN"

An independent survey was made recently among professional men and women—lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc. Of those who said they smoke cigarettes, more than 87% stated they personally prefer a light smoke.

Miss Gaynor verifies the wisdom of this preference, and so do other leading artists of the radio, stage, screen and opera. Their voices are their fortunes. That's why so many of them smoke Luckies. In those times, we sold but few gas refrigerators to families operating on a close budget. Most of our refrigerators were sold in homes of the more well-to-do families. They could afford to pay a premium for an automatic refrigerator that operated silently. Of course they soon discovered the economy of its operation, compared to other methods of refrigeration. As years went on, they learned the value of having no moving parts in a refrigerator, because replacement of worn parts was not necessary. Families who thought

TOO MANY "NICE BOYS"

WILLIAMS COLLEGE has a serious problem because of the fact that it is, without volition on the part of the faculty or trustees, becoming too "aristocratic" for comfort. Its academic standards high, its alumni roll distinguished, and it is looked upon as one of the best of the small colleges of New England, which is famed for them. It does not, however, relish the idea of being considered a school for boys who come from relatively rich families, rather wishing its students body to represent a cross-section of life.

President Tyler Dennett recently voiced this feeling at an alumni gathering in Boston, saying the college no longer was truly representative of America because of the unusually large proportion of "nice boys" from expensive preparatory schools. He would like to see more freshmen coming from the public high schools, but ruefully admitted "high school students are giving us a wide berth."

One reason for that is seen in the "stiff" entrance requirements, though they doubtless could be met by the progressive city high schools. Another, and serious one, is the growing tendency of Williams alumni to send their sons to fashionable "prep" schools. Doubtless other colleges of long traditions are having a somewhat similar experience. It is a difficult problem, but Dr. Dennett wistfully admits he has not found the way to solve it.

WHERE MEN ARE MEN

THE result of a questionnaire submitted to students of Notre Dame on the issue of the co-educational institution is just what might be expected from the "Fighting Irish."

At the risk of being charged with lack of gallantry and with being devoid of the element of romance that distinguishes the Irish tradition, the Poles, and the Italians, the Jews and the Rumanians, and Americans and the Armenians, the Irish and the Greeks who made up the student body of one of America's most interesting institutions of learning, have said in plain terms that they do not want the campus cluttered up with girls.

It must not be understood that they have a constitutional aversion to the sex. Girls are all right in their place, but their place is not at Notre Dame, where they would prove a distraction from the important things of life, also an item of expense.

These conclusions are not to be interpreted as reflecting a lack of interest in girls or of regard for them. Before arriving at a decision as to just what qualities are desirable in the "Sweetheart of Notre Dame," they have given beauty scant consideration and have voted for "purity, intelligence and honesty."

Their conclusions are in all respects fundamentally sound and are indicative of thoughtfulness and good judgment.

World At A Glance

—By—
Charles P. Stewart

The territory of Hawaii is almost angry enough to secede. Its status, as an integral part of Uncle Sam's domain, according to Delegate Samuel Wilder King, its only spokesman in congress, is that of a step-child of the most neglected and abused sort.

Because it is off-shore, Delegate King complains mainland Americans cannot seem to get it through their heads that Hawaiians are as American as New Yorkers or Texans or continental Americans anywhere else. They are regarded as foreigners, King says, and are discriminated against accordingly.

WHY THEY PROTEST

What especially infuriates the Hawaiian folk just now is a pending sample of legislation to establish a permanent quota plan to control the amount of sugar which, from various sources, can be sold in the United States.

As King tells the story, the bill grants an allowance to the beet sugar producing states in excess of a volume that they possibly can attain.

The cane producing states of Louisiana and Florida also are adequately provided for.

All other sugar producers are classified as foreigners and their respective quotas are correspondingly reduced, to keep them out of competition with American production.

For example, Cuba is relatively limited. Well, Cuba is foreign unquestionably. The Philippines are limited. They are on their way to become foreign, too. Puerto Rico is limited, but Puerto Rico is merely a "possession".

Hawaii, however, likewise is to be limited, as proposed, on the same basis as foreign Cuba, the vanishing Philippines and semi-American Puerto Rico — although Hawaii is at least as American as the territory of Alaska, which does not produce sugar, to be sure, but certainly is recognized as undisputedly under the Stars and Stripes.

This makes Hawaii boil. It does not ask better terms than beet sugar producing Utah or Colorado or cane sugar producing Louisiana, but it does demand as good.

ODDS AGAINST HIM

But what chance does Delegate King stand?

There are 20 mainland states, he cries out, which produce beet or cane sugar. That means 40 or more mainland senators and 100 or

MUSSOLINI IN MOOD FOR WAR

WASHINGTON — Confidential cables to the State Department during the past week have been groaning with bad news about the danger of war in Europe. There is no doubt, according to these cables, that the question of peace or war rests largely in the hands of Mussolini.

When one of the Merry-Go-Rounders was in Italy last fall he asked Count Ciano, Foreign Minister and son-in-law of Mussolini, whether he was optimistic for the peace of Europe. Without hesitation Ciano replied:

"It all depends on Spain. If General Franco is successful there will be no war in Europe. If the other side wins . . ." (here he held out his hands in a questioning gesture) . . . Well, anything may happen. Italy cannot afford to have an unfriendly government at the mouth of the Mediterranean."

American diplomats who heard the remark were inclined to pooch-pooch it as youthful bombast. At that time Italy had not even sent troops to Spain. But subsequent events indicate that Ciano was not talking for himself, but for his father-in-law.

MUSSOLINI'S MOOD

To understand how dangerous is Mussolini's mood right now, remember that he has an army of 1,250,000 men already mobilized and with time hanging heavy on their hands. Also, he has great pride in this army, basks in the glory of its Ethiopian victory, probably would prefer to fight rather than permit any tarnish of that victory.

Unfortunately the Italians defeated by the Spanish Loyalists were road-builders, not crack troops. But the world does not know that, considers their retreat a reflection on Mussolini's regular army.

BRITISH WORRY

Britain's truculent attitude toward Italy derives from the fact that the British have more to worry about from Mussolini than anyone else in Europe. His trip to Libya in North Africa was aimed directly against them.

Already the Italians have built a strategic concrete highway across Libya to the border of Egypt, gateway of Suez. Already they have built a powerful naval base in the Red Sea, part of the British life-line to the Dominions.

In Libya Mussolini posed as the protector of the Moslems, received two emissaries from the great Arab chieftain Ibn Saud. If Mussolini can rally the Arabs to his Fascist cause in Iraq, Palestine and Arabia, he would have British prestige frayed and frizzled in the Near East.

SUGAR COATING

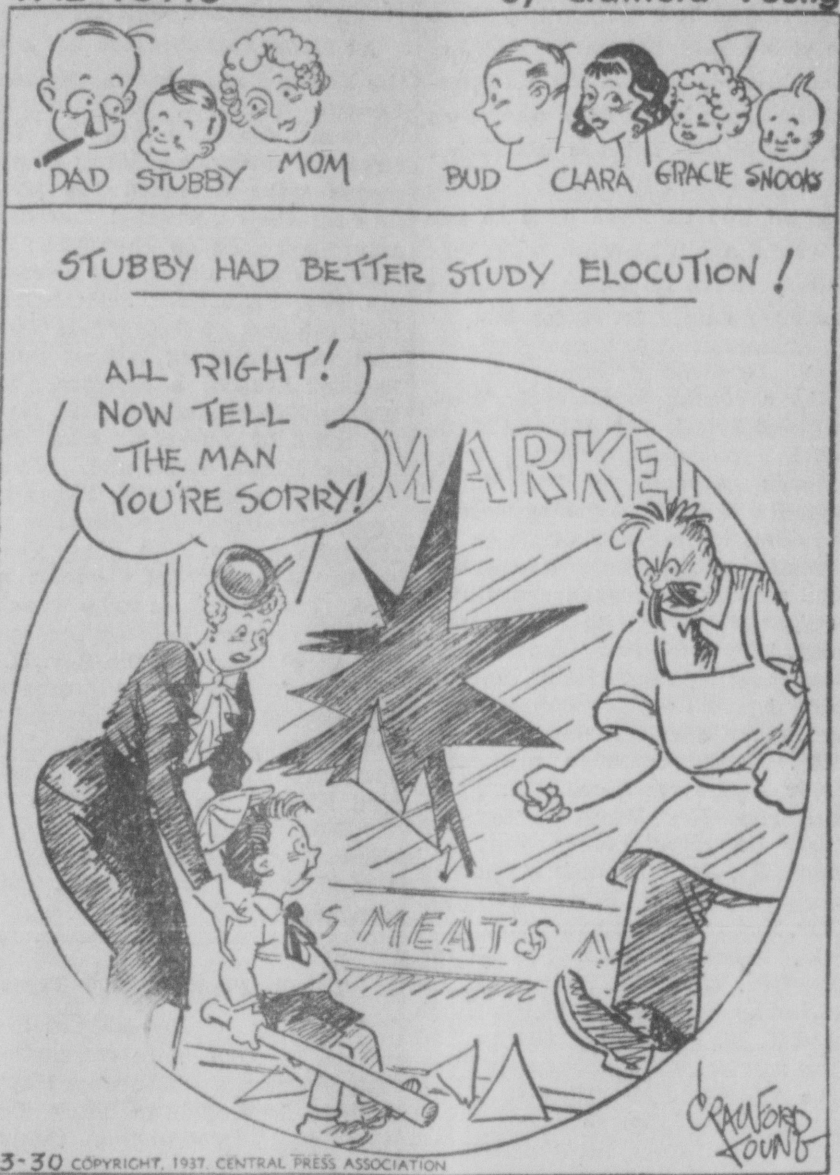

Naturally there is a lot more to Norman Davis' sudden trip to London than the announced intention to attend a sugar conference. Roosevelt, Hull and Bullitt still are toying with that idea—though almost nothing can come of it.

Wealth always encourages sin. It is hard to use discretion if you don't have to get up and go to work the next morning.

Adversity must be good for people. Politicians seem more interested in righteousness when they are out of a job.

How to Help the Child Who Doesn't Sleep Well

By IOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
AS WITH all the ills of childhood which we are considering this week, it is fundamentally true that a healthy child performs the natural functions without the slightest effort.

Dr. Clending

At the same time, an organically healthy child may become nervous, or fall into bad habits and develop some derangement which does not belong to a perfectly healthy child. The parents, remembering the ideal, become unduly alarmed. Sleep is certainly a function which belongs in full measure to the healthy child. At the beginning of life, the baby sleeps nine-tenths of the time. The commonest cause of wakefulness in an infant, like the commonest cause of excessive crying, is hunger. As time goes on the baby begins to acquire eyesight and can place sounds, becomes aware of the sensations of hunger and their meaning, and the pleasurable sensations which come from contact of its skin with soft clothing and warm water—it is interest in the world keeps it awake more and more. As the summer days lengthen out, the child will naturally be more and more wakeful in the evening. Don't put it to bed too early unless it is sleepy. It is acquiring an interest in the world.

Not Sign of Worms

Other disorders of sleep, which worry parents include teeth-grinding. In the old days the grandmothers used to consider teeth-grinding a sign of worms. It is only a sign of nervous and restless sleep. The best treatment is to improve the general physical condition of the child, and see that it does not go to bed within two and a half hours after it has eaten supper.

Bed-wetting is another cause of mental anguish. It also is purely habit, not due to a diseased condition of the kidneys but only to a lack of normal control of the bladder.

Treatment is not of much value until children are at the age of six or seven years, when they are able to understand what the physician and parents are trying to do. Two mistakes in the treatment are, first, to punish the child, and second, to wake it up two or three times at night and take it to the bathroom. Sometimes physical conditions, such as diseased tonsils or worms are responsible, and the condition clears up when these are removed, but, in general, patient training and education will be all that is necessary in the way of treatment.

QUESTIONS FROM READERS

W. R.: "What will alleviate or cure, or prevent poison oak afflictions? I have tried everything suggested, but to no avail. What is your opinion concerning the preventative measure of inoculation in the muscular part of the arms or back?"

Answer: The question of the treatment of poison oak is indeed a problem. I really know of no treatment that is of much benefit except learning every variety of the plant—and this includes such other poison producing plants as primroses—and scrupulously avoiding them. After contact is made the poison lies on the surface of the skin for some time, and can sometimes be removed with ether soap or strong kitchen soap. The ether soap dissolves the oil, which is the nature of the poisonous ingredient. I do not believe that vaccine or internal treatment has proved to be of any value.

Poems That Live

THE OLD FOLKS AT HOME

Way down upon de Suwanee River,

Far, far away,

Dere's wha my heart is turning

Dere's wha de old folks stay.

All up and down de whole creation

Sadly I roam,

Still longing for de old plantation,

And for de old folks at home.

All de world am sad and dreary,

Eb-by-where I roam;

Oh, darkeyes, how my heart grows

weary,

Far from de old folks at home!

All round de little farm I wandered

When I was young,

Den many happy days I squandered

Many de songs I sung.

When I was playing wid my brudder

Happy was I;

Oh, take me to my kind old mudder!

Dere let me live and die.

One little hut among de bushes,

One dat I love,

Still sadly to my memory rushes,

No matter where I rove.

When will I see de bees a-humming

All around de comb?

When will I hear de banjo tumming,

Down in my good old home?

Charles Stuckey, senior member of a London law firm with a questionable reputation, is informed by cable from America that Miss Jacqueline Smith, daughter of one of his few respectable clients, now on Miss Mince continent with her mother, has inherited $1,500,000 from an American uncle, Colonel Alec Lutman, who has a hold over Stuckey, learns of the inheritance and proposes a scheme to which Stuckey reluctantly agrees. The plan calls for Jim Asson, an ex-convict, to marry Jacqueline, having her assign her property—before Stuckey informs her of the inheritance—to her new husband. Lutman plans to take three-fifths of the inheritance, Stuckey and Asson each one-fifth. Lutman and Asson go to Cobenzl to cultivate Jacqueline and her mother, stopping at the same hotel where Mrs. Smith finds herself in dire financial straits. Asson, in the role of a wealthy Englishman, already has impressed Mrs. Smith as an admirable "catch" for her daughter. After a week the Colonel urges Jim to hasten his proposal. Jacqueline is chagrined when the hotel waiter refuses her mother a bottle of wine unless she pays for it at once. The Colonel urges Jim to follow her to the lounge and press his suit. Spurred on by Colonel Lutman, Jim, at the end of a week, tries to convince Jacqueline she should marry him.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY:

CHAPTER 11

"YOU'D HAVE anything you wanted, Jacqueline, if you married me," Jim Asson argued. "You could live where you like and have what you like and do what you like. I can't say more than that, can I?"

"Can't you? Try, Jim."

He glanced at her with a puzzled expression on his face.

"If there's anything else you want, Jacqueline . . ."

"There is."

"Then you've only to mention it."

She smiled. "You don't read very much, do you, Jim? Novels, I mean. You can't, or you wouldn't need reminding that when a man asks a girl to marry him it's usual to tell her that he loves her. It may not be true, but it's polite convention to say it, at all events."

"Yes, of course—but I thought—I mean, that goes without saying, Jacqueline. You know I'm frightened of you."

She was shaking her head.

"As a matter of fact, Jim," she said, "it's the one thing in the world that never goes without saying. Still, we'll take it as said." She rose from her chair. "Thanks very much, Jim. It's quite the most original proposal I've ever had."

He stood up, took a cigaret from his case and tapped it on the back of his hand.

"And what's the answer, Jacqueline?"

"I haven't the faintest idea. I've got to work it out—take the minus reasons from the plus reasons—and it's too complicated to do in my head. Let x equal the unknown quantity of affection. . . ."

"Hang it, Jacqueline, I've told you I'm frightfully fond of . . ."

"All right, Jim," she smiled.

"Don't worry. I'll find the answer all right, and as soon as I've found it I'll tell you know."

"But can't you tell me now?" he persisted.

She shook her head.

"It's pretty rotten, waiting and not knowing and wondering all the time. . . ."

"Sorry, Jim, but it can't be helped. There's x and y to be dealt with. I can make a good guess at the value of x, but I've still got to discover the 'why.' I'll tell you as soon as I know myself."

Before he could say any more she turned and hurried away, and Asson, having frowned at her back until she turned the corner, flung himself into his armchair again and savagely struck a match for his cigaret.

And there, a few minutes later, Colonel Lutman found him.

"Well, my dear James," he said, smiling affably. "Does one congratulate you?"

Asson gave a shrug.

"I'm hanged if I know."

Lutman raised his eyebrows, and his monocle, as if in protest against his taking such a liberty, slipped from his eye.

"Surely, James," he said, "you

There, a few minutes later, Colonel Lutman found him can't so soon have forgotten whether a charming young lady is betrothed to you or not?"

"I tell you I don't know," snapped Asson irritably. "Of all the cold-blooded, calculating, sarcastic little devils!" He made a gesture of impatience. "She wouldn't say yes or no, Lutman. She wants to work it out, she says. She'll tell me as soon as she knows herself."

"H'm!" said Lutman. "It's a pity, but it can't be helped. Time is precious, though, and you must be importunate, James. You must hover around her like a love-sick shadow, melt her heart with your pleading eyes."

"Oh, shut up, Lutman. I'm fed up with the whole outfit."

"And in the interim," continued Lutman imperturbably, holding out his hand, "I will keep the expensive engagement ring in my waistcoat pocket."

Asson glanced up at him, scowling.

"What's the great idea?"

Lutman smiled. "There is a pawnbroker's establishment in Cobenzl, my dear James," he said. "I noticed it this morning."

"I don't get you, Lutman."

"Nor the price of the ring, James. Hand it over."

With a scowl, Asson took the ring from his pocket and laid it on Lutman's open hand.

"You're a nasty suspicious devil, aren't you?"

Lutman slipped the ring into his waistcoat pocket.

"My dear James," he smiled, "you must try to forgive me. I once lent you a gold cigaret case."

Asson gave a start.

Jacqueline did her best to work out the problem which Jim Asson had set her, but she found it more difficult than she had expected to arrive at a definite answer to it. She considered it from her own point of view. The advantages were obvious: no more pinching and scraping; an end of this constant wandering about Europe; security, a home of her own, an assured income for her mother. Against all that must be set the fact that she no more loved Jim Asson than he loved her. But was it necessary to love him?

For several days she could come to no final decision. Each time that Jim Asson begged for her answer she replied that she was still working it out and he must wait. Why, she asked herself again and again, did Jim want to marry her? She could not get rid of a sneaking sort of feeling that there was something behind it which she did not understand; that, in the list of good reasons why she should marry him, the reason for his wanting her to do so was not included. What that reason might be, however, she could not even guess.

She was sitting on the terrace one afternoon, frowning at the river as disapprovingly as her mother had frowned when Colonel Lutman seated himself in the chair next to hers.

"And what has the Danube done," he asked, "that a charming young lady should frown on it?"

Jacqueline glanced at him and smiled. She always found Colonel Lutman rather entertaining.

"I was just wondering, Colonel," she said, "whether it's better to be broke to the wide on the banks of the Danube or to have plenty of money on the banks of the Thames."

Lutman nodded.

"A very interesting speculation, Miss Jacqueline. And the conclusion?"

She shrugged.

"I'm hanged if I know."

"No?" He smiled. "Experience has taught me that, provided one has plenty in one's pocket, the banks of the Styx, or even the banks of the Thames at Rotherhithe, can be quite a pleasant spot, and that without money it doesn't matter whether one is on the banks of the Danube or the Rhine or the Mississippi or the Nile, since it's equally hell anywhere."

"Money isn't everything, Colonel Lutman."

He smiled indulgently.

"If I may answer one platitude with another, Miss Jacqueline, money may not be everything, but it is the price of everything that's worth anything. Even of the bare necessities of life. One can't even have a bath without money."

She glanced at him quickly, but he was smiling guilelessly at the end of his cigar.

"And, speaking of money, Miss Jacqueline," he went on, "you must forgive me for broaching a rather delicate question. I am, as you may know, young Jim Asson's trustee, and he tells me that he has asked you to marry him."

Monday Club Chooses Mrs. Phillips President

Scandinavian Music Offered at Club Session

Mrs. G. D. Phillips was named president at the annual election of officers for the Monday club, held in connection with the regular meeting Monday evening.

Other officers chosen were Mrs. C. C. Watts, first vice president; Mrs. John Dunlap Sr., second vice president; Mrs. Emmitt Crist, recording secretary; Mrs. Hulse Hays, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Ione Reichelderfer, treasurer.

The program committee for next year will be comprised of Miss Margaret Rooney, Mrs. Clark Will and Mrs. Hildeburn Jones.

A pleasing program was presented by the Music Division.

Continuing the study of Scandinavian music, the evening's program was based on the famous composer, Edward Grieg. Mrs. Percy May sketched briefly the musician's life, after which two groups of Grieg's compositions were sung by Mrs. James P. Moffitt and Mrs. Clark Will. Mrs. Moffitt offered "Ich Leibe Dich" and "The Princess", and Mrs. Will, "The Swan" and "In a Boat."

The program was concluded with a most pleasing presentation of the "Peer Gynt Suite", one of Grieg's best-loved compositions. The story of Peer Gynt, as written by Henrik Ibsen, was explained by Mrs. Tom Renick, and the beautiful interpretation in musical composition by Edward Grieg, in a piano arrangement for eight hands, was played with Miss Abbe Mills Clarke, Mrs. Theodore Huston, Mrs. Ione Reichelderfer and Miss Gretchen Moeller at the pianos. Four selections from the suite were presented, namely, "The Hall of the Mountain King", "The Death of Asa", "Anitra's Dance" and "Morning".

To the music lovers of the Monday Club, the program was a most delightful and enjoyable spot of the study year.

THE SAFE, SENSIBLE WAY TO RELIEVE CONSTIPATION

Every one knows the dangers of constipation. Pills and drugs usually bring only temporary relief. That's because common constipation is due to meals low in "bulk."

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN contains "bulk" that does not break down in the body as does that of many leafy vegetables. ALL-BRAN absorbs twice its weight in water and forms a soft mass that gently sponges the intestines.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a food—not a medicine. In addition to "bulk"—it gives vitamin B to tone up the system, and iron for the blood. It is a healthful way to get rid of constipation and all its evils.

Eat two tablespoonfuls daily with milk or cream—three times a day in severe cases. Or use it in making brown muffins, breads, in salads or soups. Guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

BUCKEYE GRIDDERS REPORT FOR FIRST WORKOUT; SCHEDULE OPENS SEPT. 25

100 ATHLETES TO REPORT FOR OUTDOOR DRILL

18 Lettermen and Many From Last Year's Freshman Squad to Meet

T. C. U. TEAM FIRST FOE

Purdue Follows, Then Comes Long California Trip

COLUMBUS, March 30.—(UP)—The gridders that Ohio State will depend on to play one of the sternest schedules ever arranged for a Buck football team were to be given their first outdoor drill of the spring here today by Coach Francis A. Schmidt.

Schmidt expected approximately 100 players to attend the drill.

On the basis of the spring drills will depend which of the youngsters will be invited to report again next fall and form the varsity squad of approximately 60 men.

The squad which will greet Schmidt will not be unversed in his system. Eighteen lettermen were expected to report and many of the players up from last fall's freshman squad took part in winter practice.

Spring workouts will continue at least six weeks. Schmidt and his assistants hope to accomplish considerable along fundamental lines that ordinarily is left for fall.

The early opening date of the Bucks next season and a schedule which calls for three major games at the start of the campaign, will necessitate the squad being ready for heavy work when it reports back Sept. 10.

Ohio's opener next season is Sept. 25 with Texas Christian University. Purdue is met the next week and then the Bucks hop to the Pacific coast for a contest with Southern California.

CUBS OUTSLUG PIRATE TEAM IN 23-14 FRAY

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., Mar. 30.—(UP)—The Chicago Cubs appeared today to have their batting eyes, at last. They beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 23-14 in an exhibition yesterday. The Cubs smacked Lucas, Brandt, Heintzelman and Muehl for 19 hits. Flowers and Higbe permitted the Pirates 23 hits but they were backed by flawless fielding.

Doctors estimate that there has been a 400 per cent increase in athlete's foot disease in the United States since the World war.

FIGHT CHAMPION SOLONS TO KEEP TO DIRECT JACK DEMPSEY'S FIVE OVER TITLE BOUT

NEW YORK, March 30.—(UP)—Heavyweight Champion James Braddock will try his hand at bowling tomorrow night at the American Bowling Congress tourney.

Braddock assumed all the liabilities and assets of the Jack Dempsey Booster team today, and will appear himself as one of the five pinsters. The former heavyweight champion and current restaurant proprietor had to cancel his appearance on his physician's order to get more Florida sunshine.

Mickey Walker and other well known figures had bids in for the Dempsey team, but Braddock got it. His team will be Al Lattin, 350-pound incoming president of the ABC; Pat McDonald, a newspaperman; Ray Hoover, secretary of the New York State Bowling association, and Bill Landgraf, president of the State association.

On the adjoining alley will be the regular Jack Dempsey outfit, captained by Mort Lindsay, veteran and one of the best known pinsters in the country.

HUGHES TO WIN HOT CORNER JOB ON INDIAN TEAM

NEW ORLEANS, La., March 30.—(UP)—One of the biggest experiments Manager Steve O'Neill made this spring in an effort to turn the Cleveland Indians into a pennant threat was the conversion of Roy Hughes into a third baseman.

At the conclusion of one month's scrutiny of the youngster's play at third, O'Neill today was convinced Hughes can handle the assignment without trouble.

The big question propounded when O'Neill switched Hughes to third was whether Roy's arm was strong enough to permit him to make the long cross-diamond throw.

In exhibition contests and fielding drills Hughes' throwing has been exceptionally good and his defensive skill left little to be desired.

CARDINALS AND YANKEES TO VIE IN CAMP JOUST

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 30.—(UP)—The two major league pennant favorites clash today when the Cardinals come here for the first of a two-game series against the New York Yankees.

The Yanks have justified their top rating by winning 11 out of 14, but the Cards are near the bottom of the Grapefruit league with nine losses against four wins. They dropped another, 4 to 2, to the Boston Bees yesterday.

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 30.—(UP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers who stumbled, 5 to 3, before the Newark Bears yesterday, entertain the Cincinnati Reds today in their fourth meeting of the spring. The Reds have won two of the previous three.

THEATRES

AT THE CIRCLE
From Hollywood comes a new way to depart the guest who won't speed on his own power.

Hugh Herbert prides himself on being a genial host, but no longer will he submit to the tyranny of late-staying guests.

He has a radio that reminds a concealed phonograph, hooked up to the radio, and a special record to the curfewing.

Herbert demonstrated the device on the "We Went to College" set at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, much to the delight of his fellow players during filming of the picture, current attraction at the Circle Theatre.

AT THE GRAND
Dick Purcell heads a cast that includes Anne Nagel, Marie Wilson and others in "King of Hockey" at the Grand theatre Wednesday and Thursday evenings.

AT THE CLIFTONA
Edmund Lowe and Madge Evans are the leading players in "Espionage," a new and unusually intriguing film opening Wednesday at the Cliftona Theatre, produced by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

The story combines the blend of international intrigue and romance that is making headlines throughout the world today. A munitions maker vanishes and two opposition reporters are assigned to find him. One, a girl, the other a man, they meet on a train speeding away from Paris, each unaware that the other is a rival for the story. The millionaire is aboard and the story awaits the better of the two reporters.

About This And That In Many Sports

Rizzo and Chervinko

Help has started toward Columbus with Johnny Rizzo, clouting outfielder and Paul Chervinko, chunky catcher, assigned to duty with the Red Birds — Rizzo starred with Houston last summer, while Chervinko was with the Columbus team as an understudy to Mickey Owen — Chervinko will probably be the regular receiver for the 1937 ball club with Rizzo gathering in flies in the left garden where slugging Jack Winsett worked last year — The Red Bird teams seems to be about lined up with Rizzo in left, Lynn King in center, and Slaughter in right, Pat Ankenman at third, Jimmy Webb at shortstop, Jimmy Jordan at second base, and Bill Prout, recently obtained from Cincinnati, at first base — The mound choice for the first game will be either Ed Heusser or southpaw Max Maccon, the former favored.

Still Need Help

While the Birds are about ready for action, a study of lineups of other teams in the Association shows that many of them are stronger in several departments than the Columbus nine — More help would be welcomed from the parent Cardinal crew.

Anderson Still Cager

Carl Burger, coach of Pickaway's basketball champions, is upset these days because his boys' track team is not rounding into shape the way it should — The latest blow to the team's chance in the big track and field meet to be held in New Holland is loss of McKenzie, Burger's only broad-jumper of high caliber — Creighton Anderson, Pickaway's ace cager, went out for track, too, but about the time Burger wanted him to show his skill Anderson was playing basketball on the playground with about 20 grade youngsters — Creighton and two other boys were "standing" all the others.

Cuyler, Goodman Certain

The Cincinnati Redlegs have decided on two of their outfield posts, Kiki Cuyler, the ever-youthful clouter, annexing the center berth, and Ival Goodman, another slugger, in right — Left field lies between Phil Weintraub, up from the minors after being with the Giants several years, and Joe Dwyer, a green rookie — Walker, who played lots of ball last year, is destined for the bench.

WILSON ON WAR PATH

WINTERHAVEN, Fla., March 30.—(UP)—Alarmed at weak hitting by his Philadelphia Phillies during training games, Manager Jimmy Wilson today banned movies and reading after 9 p. m. "No more Movies," he said, "and the only thing they can read in the papers is the comics." The Phils go to Lakeland today to play the Detroit Tigers.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

ONLY TWO MISSED GAME
FREQUENTLY a very weak recall, to show the best opening lead, results in saving game or in defeating a high contract, in the only possible way. Today we have an excellent illustration of that fact. Six out of eight tables at duplicate went game because West declined to bid his weak hearts, two tables at which West bid 1-Heart, and partner made an opening lead of that suit, defeated North's 4-Spades, by winning one trick in each of the four suits.

♠ A Q 10 9 8 5 3
♥ Q 8 4
♦ Q 5
♣ K 6
♥ 9 6 3
♦ J 10 9 6 3
♣ A 7 2
♥ A J
♦ K 5 4 2
♣ K Q J 10 6 4

Bidding went: South, 1-Club or pass, but in both cases North bid 4-Spades, whether West bid 1-Heart over 1-Club, or declined to open the bidding over South's pass.

At the six tables where West had not bid 1-Heart, the opening lead was the J of diamonds. At three tables West allowed declarer's lone Q to win. At three tables

West's Ace captured declarer's Q, but allowed dummy's K to win a later trick, so that declarer lost only three tricks, one diamond, one spade and either one club or one heart trick. He did not care which, so long as he went game.

At both tables where West bid 1-Heart, the opening lead was the 9, and it made no difference to declarer whether West won the first or second lead of that suit with the K. In each case East won a trump trick with the K, then West took a diamond trick and East took a club trick, no matter in which order those suits were led.

It must be clear to all why an opening lead of diamonds will prevent declarer from obtaining one trick in each suit, provided West takes his Ace on the opening lead, and East leads a heart when he enters with his K of spades. Win with the Ace of hearts and lead dummy's K of diamonds. On it let go declarer's lone club. Then East will miss his club trick, needed to defeat the contract.

Only West's bid of hearts and his partner's opening lead of that suit can defeat the game call in spades.

COST OF AID FOR COUNTY'S DEPENDENT CHILDREN BELOW OHIO AVERAGE

$8.17 PROVIDED UNDER PROJECT IN LAST MONTH

GALLIA EXPENSE LOW 148 Under 16 Assisted by Virginia Smith's Office

Average grant per child under the division of aid to dependent children in Pickaway county during February was $8.17, as compared to the state average of $11.50.

Miss Virginia Smith, Pickaway county supervisor, said Tuesday that during the month aid was given 60 families, including 148 children under 16 years of age and nine children between the ages of 16 and 18 years.

A report from the state department of public assistance for the month shows grants during the month ranged from as low as $3.10 for Shelby county to $18.40 in Cuyahoga county.

The March report lists Pickaway county at $8.13 for the average grant per child as compared to a state average of $11.53. Local reports for the month have not been fully completed. Gallia county was listed as the low county for the month with an average grant of $3.71 per child. Cuyahoga was high with $18.82.

HERE'S REAL TALE OF ABSENT-MINDED CAROLINA PASTOR

COLUMBIA, S. C., March 30.—(UP)—When his home caught fire, the Rev. L. M. Workman, absent-minded negro preacher, became so excited that he threw his 3-year-old granddaughter out of the window and carried a bundle of clothes to safety.

The house was a bungalow. The baby landed safely.

HOME ENTERED The home of Miss Lillian Young, 8 Scioto street, was entered Monday night by the use of a skeleton key. Nothing was believed taken.

ASSEMBLY NEAR VOTE ON STATE APPROPRIATIONS

Funds Climbing to Half Million Over Davey Estimates

COLUMBUS, March 30.—(UP)—The biennial appropriations bill, now totaling $89,089,838—$65,991 over Governor Davey's recommendations—awaited consideration of the house today.

Al Kalb, D., Ottawa, chairman of the house finance committee which completed deliberations on the measure yesterday and reported it out for passage, said he hoped to have copies containing the committee's changes in the house members' hands by Thursday.

As amended by the committee, the bill granted Wilberforce University a total increase for the two years' operation of $7000; Bowling Green, $22,000 increase; Ohio University, $36,850 increase; Kent State, $25,000 decrease and Miami University, $34,600 decrease.

The Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Home, Xenia, also was given a $6000 increase for the biennium; The Ohio Revolutionary Memorial Commission, Springfield, $7500 increase and the Northwest Territorial Commission, $15,000 increase. The committee also appropriated to the commission an unexpended balance of about $22,000.

Major increases or new items included $96,000 to the state employees retirement system; $81,260 to the civil service commission; $35,000 to the public welfare department; $54,000 to the attorney general's office and $60,000 to the auditor's office.

The committee also recommended a new $52,000 appropriation to Ohio State University for a greenhouse.

SUPREME COURT

(Continued on Page Eight) was so guarded by limitation, however, that no broad construction could be placed on it.

The outstanding decisions of the session:

1. Approval of the Railway Labor act, providing for majority rule and compulsory collective bargaining between railway operators and railway workers.

2. Upholding of the Frazier-Lemke farm mortgage moratorium act which was passed to replace a similar statute invalidated by the court unanimously in 1934.

3. Reversal of the court's historic stand that states may not regulate the wages of women workers by holding that such regulation was perfectly valid in a test case involving the Washington State Minimum wage law of 1913.

4. Approval of the National Firearms act, requiring the licensing of dealers in firearms, which was passed in 1934 in a federal effort to keep lethal weapons out of the hands of gangsters.

The session kept the New Deal victory record at 100 percent for the present term of the court, which political commentators are likely to ascribe to a belief that the court "follows the election returns." Since invalidation of the Guffey coal control act last spring, the administration has not lost a single case before the court.

For the most part, however, the court's opinions since its return from a summer recess have dealt with minor matters, until yesterday's session released an avalanche of accumulated cases. The end of the day left only the Wagner Labor act cases and litigation involving the New York unemployment insurance law—part of the New Deal Social Security scheme—undecided on its docket.

GOTHAM POLICE WITHOUT CLUES IN TRIPLE DEATH

Former Roomer Questioned Through Night After Early Inquiry

OTHER WITNESSES CALLED Gray Hair and Skin Bits to be Analyzed

NEW YORK, March 30.—(UP)—Admittedly baffled by the Easter slaying of Veronica Gedeon, pretty artist's model, her mother and their lodger, police centered their investigation today on a former roomer at the Gedeon home.

George Gueret, 46-year-old French-born chauffeur, in whose room detectives found bloody handkerchiefs was still questioned early today, although it had been announced that he was exonerated and would be released. Gueret said that he had used the handkerchiefs to stop nose-bleeds, and his landlady, Mrs. Ella Peterson confirmed this, police said.

Hair, Skin Clues

With only a few strands of gray hair and the bits of skin found beneath the 20-year-old model's fingernails as the only clues, police sought other acquaintances of the victims for questioning. Until late last night many friends of the girl and her mother, Mrs. Mary Gedeon, paraded in and out of the East 51st street police station, but police said their efforts to "break" the case had been in vain. They admitted that their last remaining hope of finding the man who strangled the two women and stabbed the lodger, Frank Byrnes, 35, to death with an ice pick early Sunday morning lay in the chemical analysis of the gray hair and skin.

Police were particularly interested in the private life and affairs of the slain model, and questioned Stephen Butler, a Wall Street securities messenger, about the girl's activities Saturday night.

Except for the person who presumably waited inside the Beekman hill apartment for the model's return, Butler was the last person to see the girl alive. He said he left her at the door of her apartment at 3 a. m. Sunday after chatting with her on the stair landing for about 10 minutes. Earlier they had visited his apartment, where they had had some drinks and had danced until early morning.

Alibi Airtight

Gueret, who boarded with the Gedeons when they lived on 53rd street, according to police, had established an airtight alibi. His landlady said that he returned to his room about midnight and had been drinking, but that nothing would have prevented his leaving again without her knowing about it.

Reports by police that they were "up against a stone wall," was reminiscent of the investigations of the murder of Mrs. Nancy Titterton last year only a block from the Gedeon apartment and also that of Mrs. Mary Case. Then police said that there was no clue and shortly broke the case. But Inspector John A. Lyons, assistant chief inspector in charge of the investigation, said that "this time is goes."

Questioning of friends of the family disclosed that Mrs. Gedeon operated at least two speakeasies in the latter part of the prohibition era—one of them in the building where she ran a rooming house until she moved to the Beekman hill apartment.

Joseph Gedeon, estranged husband and father of the slain women, returned to work at his upholstery shop. He was questioned nearly all night after he discovered the bodies Easter Sunday afternoon. The naked body of his daughter was on a bed, while that of her mother had been hidden under it. Byrnes' body was in another room.

COUNTY BURIAL BOARDS REVISED BY OFFICIALS

County commissioners revised the soldiers' burial committees Monday, announcing members for all districts except Circleville and Washington townships. Additional appointments will be made in the near future.

Auditor Forrest Short said no definite terms were established for the committees. The revision, he said, was the first made since he had been in office.

Following are the committees: first ward, Charles Ryan and F. A. Marion; second ward, E. S. Neuding and Fred Donnelly; third ward, John Boggs and Clark Will; fourth ward, Harold Pontius and E. L. Tolbert; Darby township, Harry Blaine and Dewey Downs; Decree, Harry Puffinbarger and Homer Hinson; Harrison, Jesse Baum and George Messick; Jackson, James Butts and James List; Madison, Cliff Smith and Russell Perrill; Monroe, George Winfough and James Hatfield; Muhlenberg, John Downs and Gilbert Crawford; Perry, George Betts and John Dick; Pickaway, Austin Wilson and Loren Dudley; Salt Creek, O. MATTSON CASE SUSPECT HELD

New Mexico Police Call G-Men to Investigate Man's Activities

(Continued from Page One) jail. The sheriff said at the time of the arrest, he did not have the Mattson kidnapping case in mind. Later he was scanning the rogues gallery and came on the picture of the Tacoma kidnaper, which was merely an artist's conception, drafted in the department of justice laboratory in Washington from the meager clues and descriptions that the federal agents had assembled.

The sheriff said the resemblance between the image and his prisoner "nearly knocked me off my chair."

Alex Street, 63-year-old department of justice agent from El Paso, who will reach the retirement age on May 1, was in charge of the questioning. Once last night he was heard to remark "there will be a plane load of federal men here from the west coast by tomorrow afternoon."

From what was known of the kidnaper, he spoke brokenly, with an accent that appeared to be of southern European extraction; had hump shoulders, high cheek bones, a swarthy complexion and was about 5 feet, 7 inches tall, weighed 145 to 165 pounds.

This description was obtained from Charles Mattson's brother, sister and playmate. They were in the room with Charles at 9 p. m. last December 27 when the kidnaper entered and carried him away.

The sheriff said he had Charlton's room watched several days. He apparently left the room only to go to a nearby cafe for meals. When he had his car sent to a garage for repairs, the sheriff thought the man might be preparing to leave town, so he had him jailed on suspicion. The car was purchased last year at Dallas, Tex.

SIX NEW LEVIES CONSIDERED FOR STATE APPROVAL

Sen. Lawrence said he still believed the senate was opposed to any new taxes unless "absolutely necessary." He would not commit himself on the proposal to lop about $10,000,000 annually from the governor's budget to finance poor aid. Such a proposal was also suggested by the inter-organization council of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce.

By a vote of 29 to 0, the senate passed a bill already approved by the house, providing for the appointment of special policemen at Ohio University, Miami University, Ohio State University, Bowling Green, Kent State, Wilberforce and the Ohio Agricultural Experiment station.

The special officers would have power to arrest without warrant.

Institution Money Voted

Concurring in senate amendments, the house passed, 100 to 9, and sent to the governor a bill appropriating $779,000 for the maintenance of insane patients in private hospitals. The bill provides the state shall pay $2.60 per day per patient until April 1, after which the counties shall bear half the cost.

The bill also carries a $15,000 appropriation for inspection of the hospital until Jan. 1, 1937, after which time the administration hopes to have additions and betterment to state hospitals completed to take care of the "overflow."

The house also passed a bill, introduced by Sen. Maurice W. Lipscher, D., Mahoning, designed to facilitate the retirement of scrip by political sub-divisions. Cities having scrip outstanding, according to house sponsors, are Dayton, $180,000; Lorain, $55,000 and Youngstown, $125,000.

The bill would permit these cities to issue bonds or notes over a 10-year period in place of the scrip, which otherwise would have to be paid off this year.

ABANDONED CAR FOUND

The sheriff's department recovered a 1933 Ford coupe, stolen from Columbus, on Route 104 about one mile south of Westfall, Monday night. The car had been abandoned with one front tire flat and wheel damaged. Officers said the car was stolen from S. Parsons avenue on Saturday night. It is owned by Charles Meinch.

KERNS TO PRACTICE

Dr. V. D. Kerns, county health commissioner, announced Tuesday he would open offices to conduct a general practice of medicine, Sunday. His offices will be in connection with the Board of Health offices over Gallaher's store. Dr. E. J. Lilly, dentist, will continue to use the front office on the second floor for his practice.

TWO PROMINENT MEN DIE; RITES HELD IN CHURCH

Double funeral services were held in the Clarksburg Methodist church Tuesday afternoon for Thomas J. Timmons, 85, who died at his home in Clarksburg on Easter Sunday, and his nephew, Robert S. Harmount II, 65, who died Saturday night at his home in Batavia.

Mr. Timmons was a grandson of the Rev. Stephen Timmons, one of the early pioneers of the Deer Creek valley, who came from Maryland in 1799. He was also a great-grandson of White Brown, who figured in the early Methodist history of the Deer Creek circuit. Mr. Timmons was a lifelong resident of Clarksburg.

Mr. Harmount was born at the old Harmount farm near Clarksburg and was educated in the rural schools and attended Ohio Wesleyan university. After some years of teaching he entered the jewelry business in Delaware, then at Batavia, where he was a jeweler and optician.

Mr. Harmount, Williamsport, is a brother of the deceased.

LEGISLATORS

(Continued from Page One) house session during which the now-famous quail bill went down to humiliating defeat.

But Kiefer was persistent.

He said reports had reached him that wolves had invaded Champaign and Union counties, that a wolf was killed in Guernsey county and that Canadian wolves were now spending their winters in Ohio.

"This is one of those non-controversial measures," he said. "The wolf must be exterminated." The mournful howls rose to a new crescendo. Kiefer shook his head and sat down.

Rep. L. C. Washburn, D., Mahoning, asked the privilege of questioning Kiefer.

"Mr. Kiefer," he said, "do they still make their own liquor in Logan county?"

Kiefer said he thought they were "capable of it."

Another member asked if Logan county had "any wolves garbed in sheep's clothing."

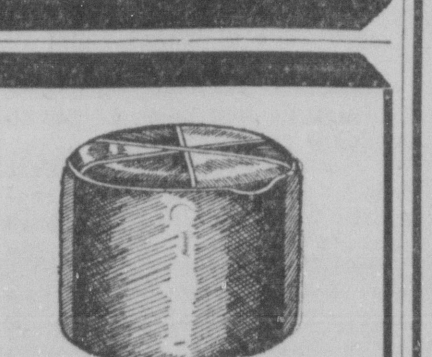

At this point, Rep. Al Kalb, D., Ottawa, apparently taking pity on his colleague, arose in support of the bill. He was immediately woofed down.

On the final vote, however, all

GIRL, 16, BRUISED IN FALL OUT OF MOTHER'S AUTO

A mother's attempt to save her 16-year-old daughter from serious injury resulted in a minor automobile accident at 6:15 p. m. Monday.

Mrs. Florence Herron, 708 S. Washington street, was making a left turn into Ohio street from Clinton street when the side door of her automobile swung open. She reached for her daughter, Leona, as the girl started to fall from the car, and at the same time, Mrs. Herron swerved her machine against the parked auto of Harry Selts, 375 E. Ohio street.

Mrs. Herron caught her daughter's dress, partially breaking the fall. The girl escaped with minor bruises.

Civil Service Board Delays Plea Of Policemen For Another Week

CHAIRMAN BUSY DISPENSING 1937 TAGS FOR CARS

Informal Meeting Conducted Monday Evening in Effort to Establish Date

ANOTHER CONFAB PLANNED

Shasteen, Radcliff Seek Pay For Six Days' Time

The Civil Service Commission's hearing of appeals of Patrolman Alva Shasteen and Carl Radcliff will not be held until the rush for 1937 automobile license tags is completed.

James McLaughlin, chairman of the commission, is also deputy registrar of motor vehicles. Automobiles cannot be driven with 1936 license tags after Wednesday, so Mr. McLaughlin will probably be kept busy for the next few days.

The commission met in an informal session in City Hall Monday evening with all members, Mr. McLaughlin, Harry L. Bartholomew, and James Wickenselmer, present. Another meeting will be held early next week to consider a date for the hearing.

Six Days' Pay Sought

The patrolmen are seeking pay for six days they lost when suspended by Police Chief W. F. McCrady. Safety Director C. O. Caskey returned them to their jobs after he heard charges brought against them, but declared they would have to go without six days' salaries.

Shasteen and Radcliff appealed to the commission, seeking complete exoneration of charges they violated regulations and refused to follow orders of their superiors.

$55,000 DAMAGE SUIT FOLLOWS PLANE TRAGEDY

TROY, March 30. — (UP) — A $55,000 damage suit was filed in common pleas court here today on behalf of Bessie and G. C. Culver of Dallas county, Texas, against the Waco Aircraft Co., of Troy in connection with the death of George L. Culver in an airplane accident in Texas Feb. 16, 1936.

The parents charged in their petition that defective workmanship on the airplane caused the accident. Mrs. Culver asked $30,000 damages and Culver $25,000. They stated they were dependent upon their son.

The petition stated that accident, in which Culver and his pilot were killed, occurred when an aileron in the right wing went out of control. It alleged a ball-bearing fitting became unfastened.

WATER SUPPLY FAILS, COUNTY HOME IS RAZED

All household goods, except dishes and a few small articles, were saved when the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Karshner on the George Kirk farm, was razed by fire Monday. The farm is located on the Clarksburg road two miles southeast of New Holland.

Mr. Karshner discovered the fire during the noon hour. It was believed caused by a defective flue. It made its first appearance in the back part of the second floor.

New Holland firemen were able to put the flames under control, but shortage of water resulted in the fire gaining new headway. The building was destroyed. The structure, a 6-room bungalow, was built 22 years ago. It was covered by insurance.

Mr. and Mrs. Karshner will make their new home at Kirkwood, on another farm owned by Mr. Kirk, during the rebuilding. The Karshner family removed from the Wright farm, east of New Holland, to the Kirk property, one month ago.

BIG CHIMPANZEE AND MATE MAUL KEEPER OF ZOO

CHICAGO, March 30. — (UP) — Arthur Aitken, clawed by a 300-pound chimpanzee before 180 terrified zoo visitors, was reported in serious condition at Oak Park's West Suburban hospital today.

A hundred and fifty school children and about 30 adults watched Headkeeper Aitken as he started out to feed the apes in the "Monkey House" of the Chicago zoological park Monday afternoon.

Aitken carried a bucket of fruit and vegetables, walked down a narrow runway between the cages and a glass partition erected to prevent the animals from throwing things among the spectators.

As he passed the chimpanzee cage, "Big Mike," purchased in Cuba in 1934, reached through the bars and seized his right arm. Mizi, Mike's mate, seized the keeper's left arm and pinioned him to the cage bars.

Aitken was powerless. He struggled and screamed for help. The visitors fled from the house in terror, as Mike clawed the keeper's arms and slammed him against the bars.

Abe Parrot, Aitken's assistant, heard his cries, rushed out with a club, and beat the animals until they released the keeper, badly mangled.

SUPREME COURT MOVES TOWARD WAGNER RULING

Labor and Industry Watch as Judges Clear Way for Decision

F. D. GAINS POWER

New Deal 100 Percent in Present Session

WASHINGTON, March 30. — (UP) — Opinions reversing precedents and validating New Deal legislation headed the supreme court toward its Wagner Labor Act decision today—a decision of vital importance to labor and industry and the outcome of the controversy surrounding the court itself.

The Wagner act cases, growing in importance with the spread of labor strife, remained the most important undecided issue on the court's docket with the disposition of a series of cases, decision of which may affect the lives of millions.

It appeared certain that the women's minimum wage laws enacted by 16 states and the District of Columbia might become immediately operative as a result of the tribunal having completely reversed itself yesterday to uphold such legislation.

Provisions Sustained

Many of the provisions of the Wagner Labor Relations act also were believed sustained as a result of the court's ruling on the Railway Labor act. The decision (Continued on Page Eight.)

CONFAB AWAITS LEWIS' RETURN TO END STRIFE

LANSING, Mich., March 30. — (UP) — A deadlock over the United Automobile Workers' demand for sole collective bargaining rights in the plants of Chrysler Corporation was reported today as union leaders resumed their conferences with the millionaire manufacturer, Walter P. Chrysler.

The seventh day of the conferences in the executive offices of Gov. Frank Murphy found the conferees in agreement on immediate reopening of nine closed Chrysler plants in the Detroit area and on further negotiations over alleged grievances, if a solution to the exclusive bargaining rights problem can be found.

Close advisors to the conferees believed that the deadlock would continue until John L. Lewis, chairman of the Committee for Industrial Organization, returns from Appalachian Coal conferences in New York City.

LEGISLATORS ENJOY 'HOWLING' SESSION, VOTE WOLF BOUNTY

COLUMBUS, March 30. — (UP) — Rep. R. J. Kiefer, R., Logan county dirt farmer, proclaimed his bill providing a $10 county for the scalps of wolves and coyotes a "howling success" today.

Everyone entered into the spirit of the occasion when the bill came up for a vote last night—to such an extent, in fact, Rep. Kiefer had quite a little difficulty making himself heard above the blood-curdling howls that rose from every corner of the house chamber.

The howling began quietly in one section of the chamber when Speaker Frank Uible announced the bill. As Kiefer stood up the baying increased until it reached a terrifying pitch.

Noise of Coyotes

"If you gentlemen ever heard wolves howl," Kiefer shouted above the tumult, "I think you'd say that noise came from coyotes."

Kiefer managed to explain, at least to reporters sitting directly in front of him, that eight wolves had been killed in his county in the past year; that two packs were known to be roaming in the county, killing sheep and raising general havoc and that the bill was amended to include coyotes after two of those prairie wolves had been killed in the western part of the county.

By this time, the call of the bob-white had been added to the uproar—reminiscent of another (Continued on Page Eight.)

TUCUMCARI, N. M., March 30. — (UP) — A man with a cleft chin, misshapen nose and fine dark hair on his arms—fitting the department of justice's image of the kidnaper of 10-year-old Charles Mattson of Tacoma, Wash.—was held for questioning today in the county jail.

Federal agents examined him closely and made more than 20 long distance telephone calls during the night. One was understood to have been to J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, who was absent from his office in Washington today. The agents here worked briskly.

The prisoner gave his name as Vera Chariton and said he lived near Tacoma. He was arrested last Thursday by Sheriff Fred White, on suspicion. TWO MEN FLEE OHIO BANK WITH $1,500 IN LOOT

HURON, March 30. — (UP) — Two men robbed the Berlin Heights Banking Co. here of an estimated $1,500 today.

The men entered the bank shortly before noon when there were no customers. They commanded H. G. Waite, cashier, and his assistant to "stick 'em up" and then proceeded to take all the money in sight.

They ran from the bank and entered a parked car outside with motor running and headed south. Soon after the alarm was given, officers gave chase.

According to sheriff's officials in Sandusky, five miles away, the two bandits had been located a few miles south of here and it was considered only a short time before they would be apprehended.

GLASS ATTACKS F. D.'S SUPREME COURT REVISION

WASHINGTON, March 30. — (UP) — Congressional foes of President Roosevelt's judiciary program claimed gains today after a slashing attack by Sen. Carter Glass, and a series of supreme court decisions on social and economic legislation.

Suggesting that President Roosevelt might seek a third term, the veteran Virginia Democrat denounced the court enlargement plan as "repugnant" and "utterly destitute of moral sensibility."

Glass, in the second radio speech of his long career, said that the proposal was an effort by Mr. Roosevelt to pack the court "during his present term, even should there be no another," with persons "entertaining his extraordinary views of government."

SIX NEW LEVIES CONSIDERED FOR STATE APPROVAL

Another Cent May Be Put On Cigaret Sales to Aid Relief Fund

SOME ACTION CERTAIN

Ruth Lloyd, Chairman, Says More Income Needed

COLUMBUS, March 30. — (UP) — With only two weeks left until the stop-gap relief bill expires, the house taxation committee today began hearings on six possible revenue-raising measures, including proposals to impose additional one cent levies on cigarettes and sales.

The cigaret increase, Rep. Ruth Lloyd, D., Scioto, chairman of the committee, estimated would raise an additional $2,250,000 for the remainder of the year while the sales tax proposal would yield between $7,000,000 and $10,000,000 more in 1937.

Utility Tax Eyed

The committee also studied a utility tax on telephone, light and gas bills, estimated to produce $7,500,000, an increase from three to ten percent in the admissions tax, yielding an additional $1,500,000, a half-cent increase in the liquor tax, producing $4,500,000 more; a proposal to remove connection from the sales tax classification and levy a straight 10 per cent tax on them. This would produce about $900,000.

All told the levies would produce a maximum of about $26,500,000 for the remainder of 1937. Mrs. Lloyd pointed out, however, that the committee would probably accept only one or two of the taxes for consideration.

At the same time, however, Sen. Keith Lawrence, D., Cuyahoga, majority floor leader, reiterated his belief that the senate would insist on adjournment at the end of this month.

Sen. Lawrence introduced the April 15 adjournment resolution.

Special Session Aired

He said it was "quite possible" the senate would go home before any legislation was adopted to take care of relief when the stop-gap bill expires April 15. He said he still favored the proposal, which has strong support of the "Yoder bloc," to hold a special session possibly sometime in June for sole (Continued on Page Eight.)

EUROPE CLAIMS SPANISH REBELS LOSING, BICKER

BY UNITED PRESS

Today's news from Spain indicated strongly that the loyalists, after months of being the underdog, have at least momentarily turned the tide.

Circumstantial reports spread through Europe of disaffection in the rebel ranks; of mutineries of revolt and many executions to put down incipient revolts.

It was also reported that the rebel Spaniards and their German allies, blaming the Italians for their reverses at Guadalajara and now in the Cordoba region south of Madrid, are bickering with the Italians.

Madrid reported that the rebel drive to capture the Almaden mercury mines between Madrid and Cordoba had collapsed and that 70,000 Italian and German troops were retreating towards Cordoba.

Northeast of Madrid, the loyalists were driving towards Sigüenza, insurgent base in the north. The insurgents hoped for a counter-attack, massing to drive the loyalists back to Madrid.

SEVEN CONVICTS PUNISHED AFTER PRISON UPRISING

FLORENCE, Ariz., March 30. — (UP) — Seven ringleaders were reported in solitary confinement today as punishment for a two-hour riot of 400 convicts at the Arizona state prison.

The prisoners overturned mess tables and shouted defiance in a rebellion against prison food. They also complained against several prison officials. They were subdued without injuries.

Warden A. J. Barnes named 14 convicts for the trouble. Many guards have been absent hunting John Quantrell, escaped murderer, and the curtailed crew is insufficient to keep the prisoners at their usual tasks.

FUEL TAX CASH MAY BE TAKEN FROM SCHOOLS

COLUMBUS, March 30 — (UP)

Repeal of the law earmarking revenues from the one cent liquid fuel tax for school purposes was provided for in a joint resolution pending before the house today.

The resolution, introduced by Rep. Giles F. Guthrie, D., Portage, declared the law "unsound and unjust" and "open to serious criticism" on the grounds the funds were needed for the "immediate development of additional highways and streets."

Rep. Guthrie proposed the establishment of a six-member commission, composed of three members from each house, to study other means of taxation to replace the liquid fuel tax, which expires March 31, 1939.

The resolution contended the levy was a sales tax "far exceeding that imposed within the state upon the sales of other commodities" and added that "even after its imposition, it appears the school fund is inadequately supported for its minimum obligations."

Farm Agent Suggests Increase in Alfalfa

There must be some relation between large alfalfa crops in some states and the fact that those states have the best alfalfa balances, according to Ross M. Work, Bellefontaine, county agricultural agent, who is recommending that farmers in this county and in the rest of Ohio increase their alfalfa acreages.

The amount of alfalfa in Ohio increased about 10 percent from 1929 to 1934 but even then the total amount of alfalfa was less than five acres out of every 100 acres of crop land in the state. Mr. Work says when you consider the value of alfalfa for feed, in improving soil, and as a control for soil erosion, it is apparent that the state needs more of this crop.

As a feed, the alfalfa can be used as pasture or as hay. Good alfalfa hay cuts down the amount of concentrates needed in rations for dairy cattle and for other classes of livestock, so it is possible to reduce feed bills on farms where there is a good supply. Many Ohio farmers use alfalfa pasture and have no trouble with animals bloating when they use proper precautions in turning the stock on alfalfa the first time.

High in Legumes List
Alfalfa probably heads the list as a soil improver. Agronomists at the University say that alfalfa puts more fertility back in the soil in one year than a good corn crop takes out. The plants take nitrogen from the air and store it in the soil and also leave a large quantity of roots which furnish needed organic matter.

Haines M. Reichel, Dayton, soil conservation service, agrees with Mr. Work on the value of alfalfa in preventing soil erosion. "Alfalfa not only works well in crop rotations but it can be seeded and left down for a number of years in fields that would otherwise be plowed often. The heavy top growth of the alfalfa plant prevents rapid runoff of surface water and the roots hold the soil in any gully of the field."

Mr. Work says alfalfa is the main crop of the state and cannot be obtained in any quantity without careful production. The soil must contain enough nitrogen for the alfalfa to grow. The Logan county rural agent also advises that alfalfa is a hardy plant and can be grown in almost any soil. Green seed is the best for use in the state.

Federal alfalfa seed is the best for the alfalfa farmer. The program has started in the state to make payments to alfalfa growers.

FIFTY MEN MEET MONDAY TO TALK OF ORGANIZATION

Fifty local craftsmen and laborers, meeting in the Veterans of Foreign Wars post room Monday night, postponed formation of a permanent organization until more members are added to the movement.

Seventeen men signed for memberships Monday night boosting the total to 45. Other meetings will be held weekly to create more interest in the movement.

Letters have been sent to other labor groups for information, but replies have not been received.

Monday night's meeting consisted of a general discussion of plans for the organization by Mr. Marion and other members. The purpose of the group is to boost employment of Circleville men on Circleville projects.

Janet Gaynor says: "Leading artists of the screen prefer Luckies"

"I live at the beach most of the year and there is hardly a weekend that a number of friends don't drop in. Naturally, I keep several brands of cigarettes on hand for guests, but the Luckies are always the first to disappear. I suppose it's just natural that Luckies would be the favorite brand because most of my friends in pictures have discovered that the long hours of rehearsing and shooting at the studio place a severe tax on the throat. Leading artists of the screen prefer Luckies because they are a light smoke that sympathizes with tender throats."

Janet Gaynor

FEMININE STAR OF DAVID O. SELZNICK'S TECHNICOLOR PRODUCTION OF "A STAR IS BORN"

An independent survey was made recently among professional men and women—lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc. Of those who said they smoke cigarettes, more than 87% stated they personally prefer a light smoke.

Miss Gaynor verifies the wisdom of this preference, and so do other leading artists of the radio, stage, screen and opera. Their voices are their fortunes. That's why so many of them smoke Luckies. You, too, can have the throat protection of Luckies—a light smoke, free of certain harsh irritants removed by the exclusive process "It's Toasted". Luckies are gentle on the throat.

TOO MANY "NICE BOYS"
WILLIAMS COLLEGE has a serious problem because of the fact that it is, without volition on the part of the faculty or trustees, becoming too "aristocratic" for comfort. Its academic standards high, its alumni roll distinguished, and it is looked upon as one of the best of the small colleges of New England, which is famed for them. It does not, however, relish the idea of being considered a school for boys who come from relatively rich families, rather wishing its students body to represent a cross-section of life.

President Tyler Dennett recently voiced this feeling at an alumni gathering in Boston, saying the college no longer was truly representative of America because of the unusually large proportion of "nice boys" from expensive preparatory schools. He would like to see more freshmen coming from the public high schools, but ruefully admitted "high school students are giving us a wide berth."

One reason for that is seen in the "stiff" entrance requirements, though they doubtless could be met by the progressive city high schools. Another, and serious one, is the growing tendency of Williams alumni to send their sons to fashionable "prep" schools. Doubtless other colleges of long traditions are having a somewhat similar experience. It is a difficult problem, but Dr. Dennett wistfully admits he has not found the way to solve it.

WHERE MEN ARE MEN
THE result of a questionnaire submitted to students of Notre Dame on the issue of the co-educational institution is just what might be expected from the "Fighting Irish."

At the risk of being charged with lack of gallantry and with being devoid of the element of romance that distinguishes the Irish tradition, the Poles, and the Italians, the Jews and the Rumanians, and Americans and the Armenians, the Irish and the Greeks who made up the student body of one of America's most interesting institutions of learning, have said in plain terms that they do not want the campus cluttered up with girls.

It must not be understood that they have a constitutional aversion to the sex. Girls are all right in their place, but their place is not at Notre Dame, where they would prove a distraction from the important things of life, also an item of expense.

These conclusions are not to be interpreted as reflecting a lack of interest in girls or of regard for them. Before arriving at a decision as to just what qualities are desirable in the "Sweetheart of Notre Dame," they have given beauty scant consideration and have voted for "purity, intelligence and honesty."

Their conclusions are in all respects fundamentally sound and are indicative of thoughtfulness and good judgment.

World At A Glance

The territory of Hawaii is almost angry enough to secede.
 Its status, as an integral part of Uncle Sam's domain, according to Delegate Samuel Wilder King, its only spokesman in congress, is that of a step-child of the most neglected and abused sort.
 Because it is off-shore, Delegate King complains mainland Americans cannot seem to get it through their heads that Hawaiians are as American as New Yorkers or Texans or continental Americans anywhere else. They are regarded as foreigners, King says, and are discriminated against accordingly.

WHY THEY PROTEST
 What especially infuriates the Hawaiian folk just now is a pending sample of legislation to establish a permanent quota plan to control the amount of sugar which, from various sources, can be sold in the United States.

As King tells the story, the bill grants an allowance to the best sugar producing states in excess of a volume that they possibly can attain.
 The cane producing states of Louisiana and Florida also are automatically provided for.

MUSSOLINI IN MOOD FOR WAR

WASHINGTON — Confidential cables to the State Department during the past week have been groaning with bad news about the danger of war in Europe. There is no doubt, according to these cables, that the question of peace or war rests largely in the hands of Mussolini.

When one of the Merry-Go-Rounders was in Italy last fall he asked Count Ciano, Foreign Minister and son-in-law of Mussolini, whether he was optimistic for the peace of Europe. Without hesitation Ciano replied:

"It all depends on Spain. If General Franco is successful there will be no war in Europe. If the other side wins . . ." (here he held out his hands in a questioning gesture) . . . Well, anything may happen. Italy cannot afford to have an unfriendly government at the mouth of the Mediterranean."

American diplomats who heard the remark were inclined to pooh-pooh it as youthful bombast. At that time Italy had not even sent troops to Spain. But subsequent events indicate that Ciano was not talking for himself, but for his father-in-law.

MUSSOLINI'S MOOD

To understand how dangerous is Mussolini's mood right now, remember that he has an army of 1,250,000 men already mobilized and with time hanging heavy on their hands. Also, he has great pride in this army, basks in the glory of its Ethiopian victory, probably would prefer to fight rather than permit any tarnish of that victory.

Unfortunately the Italians defeated by the Spanish Loyalists were road-builders, not crack troops. But the world does not know that, considers their retreat a reflection on Mussolini's regular army.

BRITISH WORRY

Britain's truculent attitude toward Italy derives from the fact that the British have more to worry about from Mussolini than anyone else in Europe. His trip to Libya in North Africa was aimed directly against them.

Already the Italians have built a strategic concrete highway across Libya to the border of Egypt, gateway of Suez. Already they have built a powerful naval base in the Red Sea, part of the British life-line to the Dominions.

In Libya Mussolini posed as the protector of the Moslems, received two emissaries from the great Arab chieftain Ibn Saud. If Mussolini can rally the Arabs to his Fascist cause in Iraq, Palestine and Arabia, he would have British prestige frayed and frazzled in the Near East.

SUGAR COATING

Naturally there is a lot more to Norman Davis's sudden trip to London than the announced intention to attend a sugar conference. Roosevelt, Hull and Bullitt still are toying with that idea—though almost nothing can come of it.

Wealth always encourages sin. It is hard to use discretion if you don't have to get up and go to work the next morning.

Adversity must be good for people. Politicians seem more interested in righteousness when they are out of a job.

DIET AND HEALTH

How to Help the Child Who Doesn't Sleep Well

By I. GAN CLENDENING, M. D.
AS WITH all the ills of childhood which we are considering this week, it is fundamentally true that a healthy child performs the natural functions without the slightest effort. At the same time, an organically healthy child may become nervous, or fall into bad habits and develop some derangement which does not belong to a perfectly healthy child. The parents, remembering the ideal, become unduly alarmed.

Dr. Clendening

Sleep is certainly a function which belongs in full measure to the healthy child. At the beginning of life, the baby sleeps nine-tenths of the time. The commonest cause of wakefulness in an infant, like the commonest cause of excessive crying, is hunger. As time goes on the baby begins to acquire eyesight and can place sounds, becomes aware of the sensations of hunger and their meaning, and the pleasurable sensations which come from contact of its skin with soft clothing and warm water—its interest in the world keeps it awake more and more. As the summer days lengthen out, the child will naturally be more and more wakeful in the evening. Don't put it to bed too early unless it is sleepy. It is acquiring an interest in the world.

Not Sign of Worms
 Other disorders of sleep, which worry parents include teeth-grinding. In the old days the grandmothers used to consider teeth-grinding a sign of worms. It is only a sign of nervous and restless sleep. The best treatment is to improve the general physical condition of the child and see that it does not go to bed within two and a half hours after it has eaten supper.

Bed-wetting is another cause of mental anguish. It also is purely habit, not due to a diseased condition of the kidneys but only to a lack of normal control of the bladder. Treatment is not of much value until children are at the age of six or seven years, when they are able to understand what the physician and parents are trying to do. Two mistakes in the treatment are, first, to punish the child, and second, to wake it up two or three times at night and take it to the bathroom. Sometimes physical conditions, such as diseased tonsils or worms are responsible, and the condition clears up when these are removed, but, in general, patient training and education will be all that is necessary in the way of treatment.

QUESTIONS FROM READERS
 W. P.: "What will alleviate or cure, or prevent poison oak afflictions? I have tried everything suggested, but to no avail. What is your opinion concerning the preventative measure of inoculation in the muscular part of the arms or back?"

Answer: The question of the treatment of poison oak is indeed a problem. I really know of no treatment that is of much benefit except learning every variety of the plant—and this includes such other poison producing plants as primroses—and scrupulously avoiding them. After contact is made the poison lies on the surface of the skin for some time, and can sometimes be removed with ether soap or strong lye soap. The ether soap dissolves the oil, which is the nature of the poisonous ingredient. I do not believe that vaccine or internal treatment has proved to be of any value.

"Of all the cold-blooded, calculating, sarcastic little devils!" He made a gesture of impatience. "She wouldn't say yes or no, Lutman. She wants to work it out, she says. She'll tell me as soon as she knows herself."

"H'm!" said Lutman. "It's a pity, but it can't be helped. Time is precious, though, and you must hover around her like a love-sick shadow, melt her heart with your pleading eyes."

"Oh, shut up, Lutman. I'm fed up with the whole outfit." "And in the interim," continued Lutman impatiently, holding out his hand, "I will keep the expensive engagement ring in my waistcoat pocket."

Asson glanced up at him, scowling. "What's the great idea?" Lutman smiled. "There's a pawnbroker's establishment in Cobenzl, my dear James," he said. "I noticed it this morning."

"I don't get you, Lutman." "Not the price of the ring, James. Hand it over." With a scowl, Asson took the ring from his pocket and laid it on Lutman's open hand. "You're a nasty suspicious devil, aren't you?"

Lutman slipped the ring into his waistcoat pocket. "My dear James," he smiled, "you must try to forgive me. I once lent you a gold cigarette case."

Jackeline did her best to work out the problem which Jim Asson had set her, but she found it more difficult than she had expected to arrive at a definite answer to it. She considered it from her own point of view. The advantages were obvious: no more pinching and scraping; an end of this constant wandering about Europe; security, a home of her own, an assured income for her mother. Against all that must be set the fact that she no longer loved Jim Asson than he loved her. But was it necessary to love him?

Monday Club Chooses Mrs. Phillips President

Scandinavian Music Offered at Club Session

Mrs. G. D. Phillips was named president at the annual election of officers for the Monday club, held in connection with the regular meeting Monday evening.

Other officers chosen were Mrs. C. C. Watts, first vice president; Mrs. John Dunlap Sr., second vice president; Mrs. Emmitt Crist, recording secretary; Mrs. Hulise Hays, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Ione Reichelderfer, treasurer.

The program committee for next year will be comprised of Miss Margaret Rooney, Mrs. Clark Will and Mrs. Hildeburn Jones.

A pleasing program was presented by the Music Division.

Continuing the study of Scandinavian music, the evening's program was based on the famous composer, Edward Grieg. Mrs. Percy May sketched briefly the musician's life, after which two groups of Grieg's compositions were sung by Mrs. James P. Moffitt and Mrs. Clark Will.

Moffitt offered "Ich Liebe Dich" and "The Princess," and Mrs. Will, "The Swan" and "In a Boat."

The program was concluded with a most pleasing presentation of the "Peer Gynt Suite," one of Grieg's best-loved compositions. The story of Peer Gynt, as written by Henrik Ibsen, was explained by Mrs. Tom Renick, and the beautiful interpretation in musical composition by Edward Grieg, in a piano arrangement for eight hands, was played with Miss Abbe Mills Clarke, Mrs. Theodore Huston, Mrs. Ione Reichelderfer and Miss Gretchen Moeller at the pianos. Four selections from the suite were presented, namely, "The Hall of the Mountain King," "The Death of Asa," "Anitra's Dance" and "Morning."

To the music lovers of the Monday Club, the program was a most delightful and enjoyable spot of the study year.

BUCKEYE GRIDDERS REPORT FOR FIRST WORKOUT; SCHEDULE OPENS SEPT. 25

100 ATHLETES TO REPORT FOR OUTDOOR DRILL

18 Lettermen and Many From Last Year's Freshman Squad to Meet

T. C. U. TEAM FIRST Foe

Purdue Follows, Then Comes Long California Trip

COLUMBUS, March 30.—(UP)—The gridders that Ohio State will depend on to play one of the sternest schedules ever arranged for a Buck football team were to be given their first outdoor drill of the spring here today by Coach Francis A. Schmidt.

Schmidt expected approximately 100 players to attend the drill. On the basis of the spring drills will depend which of the youngsters will be invited to report again next fall and form the varsity squad of approximately 60 men.

The squad which will greet Schmidt will not be unversed in his system. Eighteen lettermen were expected to report and many of the players up from last fall's freshman squad took part in winter practice.

Spring workouts will continue at least six weeks. Schmidt and his assistants hope to accomplish considerable along fundamental lines that ordinarily is left for fall.

The early opening date of the Buck's next season and a schedule which calls for three major games at the start of the campaign, will necessitate the squad being ready for heavy work when it reports back Sept. 10.

Ohio's opener next season is Sept. 25 with Texas Christian University. Purdue is met the next week and then the Bucks hop to the Pacific coast for a contest with Southern California.

CUBS OUTSLUG PIRATE TEAM IN 23-14 FRAY

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., Mar. 30.—(UP)—The Chicago Cubs appeared today to have their batting eyes, at last. They beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 23-14 in an exhibition yesterday. The Cubs smacked Lucas, Brandt, Heintzelman and Muehl for 19 hits. Flowers and Higbe permitted the Pirates 23 hits but they were backed by flawless fielding.

Doctors estimate that there has been a 400 per cent increase in athlete's foot disease in the United States since the World war.

CUBS' ACE CUB - - - By Jack Sords

FIGHT CHAMPION TO DIRECT JACK DEMPSEY'S FIVE

NEW YORK, March 30.—(UP)—Heavyweight Champion James Braddock will try his hand at bowling tomorrow night at the American Bowling Congress tourney.

Braddock assumed all the liabilities and assets of the Jack Dempsey Booster team today, and will appear himself as one of the five pinners. The former heavyweight champion and current restaurant proprietor had to cancel his appearance on his physician's order to get more Florida sunshine.

Mickey Walker and other well known figures had bids in for the Dempsey team, but Braddock got it. His team will be Al Lattin, 350-pound incoming president of the ABC; Pat McDonald, a newspaperman; Ray Hoover, secretary of the New York State Bowling association; and Bill Landgraff, president of the State association.

On the adjoining alley will be the regular Jack Dempsey outfit, captained by Mort Lindsay, veteran and one of the best known pinners in the country.

HUGHES TO WIN HOT CORNER JOB ON INDIAN TEAM

NEW ORLEANS, La., March 30.—(UP)—One of the biggest experiments Manager Steve O'Neill made this spring in an effort to turn the Cleveland Indians into a pennant threat was the conversion of Roy Hughes into a third baseman.

At the conclusion of one month's scrutiny of the youngster's play at third, O'Neill today was convinced Hughes can handle the assignment without trouble.

The big question propounded when O'Neill switched Hughes to third was whether Roy's arm was strong enough to permit him to make the long cross-diamond throw.

In exhibition contests and fielding drills Hughes' throwing has been exceptionally good and his defensive skill left little to be desired.

CARDINALS AND YANKEES TO VIE IN CAMP JOUST

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 30.—(UP)—The two major league pennant favorites clash today when the Cardinals come here for the first of a two-game series against the New York Yankees.

The Yanks have justified their top rating by winning 11 out of 14, but the Cards are near the bottom of the Grapefruit league with nine losses against four wins. They dropped another, 4 to 2, to the Boston Bees yesterday.

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 30.—(UP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers who stumbled, 5 to 3, before the Newark Bears yesterday, entertain the Cincinnati Reds today in their fourth meeting of the spring. The Reds have won two of the previous three.

The senate passed the $10 limit bill following reports that legislators had tried to "shakedown" promoters for tickets. The house of representatives last night voted 70 to 24 to table the measure.

Chicago promoters who had announced passage of the bill would make the fight impossible in Chicago, said after hearing of the Springfield action that they were still uncertain about negotiations because of recent complicated turns.

BILL HALLAHAN TO WIN ANOTHER TRY ON MOUND

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 30.—(UP)—"Wild Bill" Hallahan, the veteran southpaw who has been hit hard in his last two exhibition appearances, was to start another contest here today when the Cincinnati Reds met the Brooklyn Dodgers in the fourth game of their spring series.

Dick Barrett, the Coast league rookie, was scheduled to share the mound assignment with Hallahan.

After their poor performances in recent contests Manager Chuck Dressen took full opportunity of an opening in the exhibition schedule yesterday to send the squad through a long hitting and sliding drill.

A good share of Dressen's time was devoted to watching Jimmy Outlaw, the youngster up from Nashville, who seeks to oust Lew Riggs from the third base post. Outlaw has hit hard and time during the training camp sessions. He is one of the fastest men on the squad and Dressen believes he can be developed into an outstanding base runner.

Three Cincinnati players who have been on the sidelines with injuries were reported ready to return to active duty.

They were: Captain Billy Myers, who has been bothered by sore feet; Pitcher Bill Posedel, inactive because of a lame arm; and Ival Goodman, out with an injured shoulder.

REDS VS. SENATORS
SARASOTA, Fla., March 30.—(UP)—The Washington Senators, victors in nine of their last 10 grapefruit games, and the Cincinnati Reds meet for the first time today. The Senators eked out a 4-2 win over Montreal of the International league.

About This And That In Many Sports

Rizzo and Chervinko

Help has started toward Columbus with Johnny Rizzo, clouting outfielder and Paul Chervinko, chunky catcher, assigned to duty with the Red Birds — Rizzo starred with Houston last summer, while Chervinko was with the Columbus team as an understudy to Mickey Owen — Chervinko will probably be the regular receiver for the 1937 ball club with Rizzo gathering in flies in the left garden where slugging Jack Winsett worked last year — The Red Bird teams seems to be about lined up with Rizzo in left, Lynn King in center, and Slaughter in right, Pat Ankenman at third, Jimmy Webb at shortstop, Jimmy Jordan at second base, and Bill Prout, recently obtained from Cincinnati, at first base — The mound choice for the first game will be either Ed Heusser or southpaw Max Macdon, the former favored . . .

Still Need Help

While the Birds are about ready for action, a study of lineups of other teams in the Association shows that many of them are stronger in several departments than the Columbus nine — More help would be welcomed from the parent Cardinal crew . . .

Anderson Still Cager

Carl Burger, coach of Pickaway's basketball champions, is upset these days because his boys' track team is not rounding into shape the way it should — The latest blow to the team's chance in the big track and field meet to be held in New Holland is loss of McKenzie, Burger's only broad-jumper of high caliber — Creighton Anderson, Pickaway's ace cager, went out for track, too, but about the time Burger wanted him to show his skill Anderson was playing basketball on the playground with about 20 grade youngsters — Creighton and two other boys were "standing" all the others . . .

Cuyler, Goodman Certain

The Cincinnati Redlegs have decided on two of their outfield posts, Kiki Cuyler, the ever-youthful clouter, annexing the center berth, and Ival Goodman, another slugger, in right — Left field lies between Phil Weintraub, up from the minors after being with the Giants several years, and Joe Dwyer, a green rookie — Walker, who played lots of ball last year, is destined for the bench . . .

WILSON ON WAR PATH

WINTERHAVEN, Fla., March 30.—(UP)—Alarmed at weak hitting by his Philadelphia Phillies during training games, Manager Jimmy Wilson today banned movies and reading after 9 p. m. "No more Movies," he said, "and the only thing they can read in the papers is the comics." The Phils go to Lakeland today to play the Detroit Tigers.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

ONLY TWO MISSED GAME

FREQUENTLY a very weak overall, to show the best opening lead, results in saving game or in defeating a high contract, in one of the possible ways. Today we have an excellent illustration of that fact. Six out of eight tables at West duplicate went game because West declined to bid his weak hearts, two tables at which West bid 1-Heart, and partner made an opening lead of that suit, defeated North's 4-Spades, by winning one trick in each of the four suits.

West's Ace captured declarer's Q, but allowed dummy's K to win a later trick, so that declarer lost only three tricks, one diamond, one spade and either one club or one heart trick. He did not care which, so long as he went game.

At both tables where West bid 1-Heart, the opening lead was the 9, and it made no difference to declarers whether West won the first or second lead of that suit with the K. In each case East won a trump trick with the K, then West took a diamond trick and East took a club trick, no matter in which order those suits were led.

It may not be clear to all why an opening lead of diamonds will prevent declarers from obtaining one trick in each suit, provided West takes his Ace on the opening lead, and East leads a heart when he enters with his K of spades. Win with the Ace of hearts and lead dummy's K of diamonds. On it let go declarer's lone club. Then East will miss his club trick, needed to defeat the contract.

It must be obvious that if East leads his Ace of clubs, before leading the heart suit, he establishes dummy's entire suit of clubs, enabling declarer to discard both his lower hearts on good clubs, by winning with dummy's Ace of hearts when East finally gets around to leading that suit.

Only West's bid of hearts and his partner's opening lead of that suit can defeat the game call in spades.

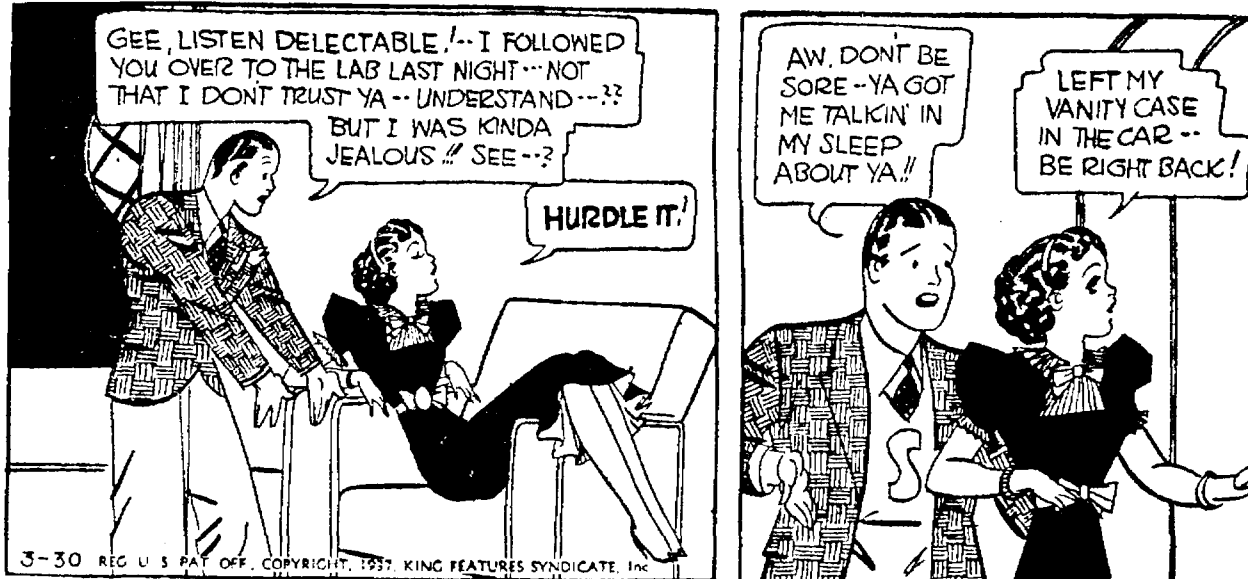

Bidding went: South, 1-Club or pass, but in both cases North bid 4-Spades, whether West bid 1-Heart over 1-Club, or declined to open the bidding over South's pass.

At the six tables where West had not bid 1-Heart, the opening lead was the J of diamonds. At three tables West allowed declarer's lone Q to win. At three tables

OST OF AID FOR COUNTY'S DEPENDENT CHILDREN BELOW OHIO AVERAGE

17 PROVIDED UNDER PROJECT IN LAST MONTH

GALLIA EXPENSE LOW

148 Under 16 Assisted by Virginia Smith's Office

Average grant per child under the division of aid to dependent children in Pickaway county during February was $8.17, as compared to the state average of $11.50.

Miss Virginia Smith, Pickaway county supervisor, said Tuesday that during the month aid was given 60 families, including 148 children under 16 years of age and nine children between the ages of 16 and 18 years.

A report from the state department of public assistance for the month shows grants during the month ranged from as low as $3.10 for Shelby county to $18.40 in Cuyahoga county.

The March report lists Pickaway county at $8.17 for the average grand per child as compared to a state average of $11.50. Local reports for the month have not been fully completed. Gallia county was listed as the low county for the month with an average grant of $3.71 per child. Cuyahoga was high with $18.82.

Up to 1933, or the advent of Hitler, France was conceded to have the most powerful military machine in the world, but because of the financial stringency, its efficiency and strength was allowed to decline, especially in the air force. Planes were allowed to become obsolete, while other powers, notably Germany, Italy and Russia, were building.

France now is engaged in an effort to regain her former preeminence in western Europe. Her military situation is conditioned by the fact that Germany has half again as large a population, with militarization unhindered by parliamentary checks and almost unfettered control of industries.

ASSEMBLY NEAR VOTE ON STATE APPROPRIATIONS

Funds Climbing to Half Million Over Davey Estimates

COLUMBUS, March 30.—(UP)—The biennial appropriations bill, now totaling $89,089,838—$665,991 over Governor Davey's recommendations—awaited consideration of the house today.

Al Kalb, D., Ottawa, chairman of the house finance committee which completed deliberations on the measure yesterday and reported it out for passage, said he hoped to have copies containing the committee's changes in the house members' hands by Thursday.

As amended by the committee, the bill granted Wilberforce University a total increase for the two years' operation of $7000; Bowling Green, $22,000 increase; Ohio University, $36,850 increase; Kent State, $25,000 decrease and Miami University, $34,600 decrease.

The Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Home, Xenia, also was given a $6000 increase for the biennium; The Ohio Revolutionary Memorial Commission, Springfield, $7500 increase and the Northwest Territorial Commission, $15,000 increase. The committee also appropriated to the commission an unexpended balance of about $22,000.

Major increases or new items included $98,000 to the state employees retirement system; $81,260 to the civil service commission; $35,000 to the public welfare department; $54,000 to the attorney general's office and $60,000 to the auditor's office.

The committee also recommended a new $52,000 appropriation to Ohio State University for a greenhouse.

was so guarded by limitation, however, that no broad construction could be placed on it.

The outstanding decisions of the session:

1. Approval of the Railway Labor act, providing for majority rule and compulsory collective bargaining between railway operators and railway workers.

2. Upholding of the Frazier-Lemke farm mortgage moratorium act which was passed to replace a similar statute invalidated by the court unanimously in 1934.

3. Reversal of the court's historic stand that states may not regulate the wages of women workers by holding that such regulation was perfectly valid in a test case involving the Washington State Minimum wage law of 1913.

4. Approval of the National Firearms act, requiring the licensing of dealers in firearms, which was passed in 1934 in a federal effort to keep lethal weapons out of the hands of gangsters.

The session kept the New Deal victory record at 100 percent for the present term of the court, which political commentators are likely to ascribe to a belief that the court "follows the election returns." Since invalidation of the Guffey coal control act last spring, the administration has not lost a single case before the court.

For the most part, however, the court's opinions since its return from a summer recess have dealt with minor matters, until yesterday's session released an avalanche of accumulated cases. The end of the day left only the Wagner Labor act cases and litigation involving the New York unemployment insurance law—part of the New Deal Social Security scheme—undecided on its docket.

GOTHAM POLICE WITHOUT CLUES IN TRIPLE DEATH

Former Roomer Questioned Through Night After Early Inquiry

OTHER WITNESSES CALLED

Gray Hair and Skin Bits to be Analyzed

NEW YORK, March 30.—(UP)—Admittedly baffled by the Easter slaying of Veronica Gedeon, pretty artist's model, her mother and their lodger, police centered their investigation today on a former roomer at the Gedeon home.

George Gueret, 46-year-old French-born chauffeur, in whose room detectives found bloody handkerchiefs was still questioned early today, although it had been announced that he was exonerated and would be released. Gueret said that he had used the handkerchiefs to stop nose-bleeds, and his landlady, Mrs. Ella Peterson confirmed this, police said.

Hair, Skin Clues

With only a few strands of gray hair and the bits of skin found beneath the 20-year-old model's fingernails as the only clues, police sought other acquaintances of the victims for questioning. Until late last night many friends of the girl and her mother, Mrs. Mary Gedeon, paraded in and out of the East 51st street police station, but police said their efforts to "break" the case had been in vain. They admitted that their last remaining hope of finding the man who strangled the two women and stabbed the lodger, Frank Byrnes, 35, to death with an ice pick early Sunday morning lay in the chemical analysis of the gray hair and skin.

Police were particularly interested in the private life and affairs of the slain model, and questioned Stephen Butler, a Wall Street securities messenger, about the girl's activities Saturday night.

Except for the person who presumably waited inside the Beekman hill apartment for the model's return, Butler was the last person to see the girl alive. He said he left her at the door of her apartment at 3 a. m. Sunday after chatting with her on the stair landing for about 10 minutes. Earlier they had visited his apartment, where they had had some drinks and had danced until early morning.

Alibi Airtight

Gueret, who boarded with the Gedeons when they lived on 53rd street, according to police, had established an airtight alibi. His landlady said that he returned to his room about midnight and had been drinking, but that nothing would have prevented his leaving again without her knowing about it.

Reports by police that they were "up against a stone wall," was reminiscent of the investigations of the murder of Mrs. Nancy Tetterton last year only a block from the Gedeon apartment and also that of Mrs. Mary Case. Then police said that there was no clue and shortly broke the case. But Inspector John A. Lyons, assistant chief inspector in charge of the investigation, said that "this time is goes."

Questioning of friends of the family disclosed that Mrs. Gedeon operated at least two speakies in the latter part of the prohibition era—one of them in the building where she ran a rooming house until she moved to the Beekman hill apartment.

Joseph Gedeon, estranged husband and father of the slain woman, returned to work at his upholstery shop. He was questioned nearly all night after he discovered the bodies Easter Sunday afternoon. The naked body of his daughter was on a bed, while that of her mother had been hidden under it. Byrnes' body was in another room.

For the most part, however, the court's opinions since its return from a summer recess have dealt with minor matters, until yesterday's session released an avalanche of accumulated cases. The end of the day left only the Wagner Labor act cases and litigation involving the New York unemployment insurance law—part of the New Deal Social Security scheme—undecided on its docket.

Institution Money Voted

Concurring in senate amendments, the house passed, 100 to 9, and sent to the governor a bill appropriating $779,000 for the maintenance of insane patients in private hospitals. The bill provides the state shall pay $2.60 per day per patient until April 1, after which the counties shall bear half the cost.

The bill also carries a $15,000 appropriation for inspection of the hospital until Jan. 1, 1937, after which time the administration hopes to have additions and betterment to state hospitals completed to take care of the "overflow."

The house also passed a bill, introduced by Sen. Maurice W. Lipsch, D., Mahoning, designed to facilitate the retirement of scrip by political subdivisions. Cities having scrip outstanding, according to house sponsors, are Dayton, $180,000; Lorain, $55,000 and Youngstown, $125,000.

The bill would permit these cities to issue bonds or notes over a 10-year period in place of the scrip, which otherwise would have to be paid off this year.

ABANDONED CAR FOUND

The sheriff's department recovered a 1933 Ford coupe, stolen from Columbus, on Route 104 about one mile south of Westfall, Monday night. The car had been abandoned with one front tire flat and wheel damaged. Officers said the car was stolen from S. Parsons avenue on Saturday night. It is owned by Charles Meinch.

KERNS TO PRACTICE

Dr. V. D. Kerns, county health commissioner, announced Tuesday he would open offices to conduct a general practice of medicine, Sunday. His offices will be in connection with the Board of Health offices over Gallaher's store. Dr. E. J. Lilly, dentist, will continue to use the front office on the second floor for his practice.

The sheriff said he had Charlton's room watched several days. He apparently left the room only to go to a nearby cafe for meals. When he had his car sent to a garage for repairs, the sheriff thought the man might be preparing to leave town, so he had him jailed on suspicion. The car was purchased last year at Dallas, Tex.

OFFICE SPACE LOANED

Dr. E. J. Lilly, E. Union street, has not given up his practice, but has only loaned part of his office space to Dr. V. D. Kerns for the county health office. The health office will remove to the courthouse addition as soon as it is completed.

COUNTY JAIL GUEST

Bertie Palm, E. Main street, was sent to the county jail Monday by Mayor W. J. Graham to serve out a fine of $10 and costs for intoxication.

consideration of the appropriations bill, taxation and relief.

Sen. Lawrence said he still believed the senate was opposed to any new taxes unless "absolutely necessary." He would not commit himself on the proposal to lop about $10,000,000 annually from the governor's budget to finance poor aid. Such a proposal was also suggested by the inter-organization council of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce.

By a vote of 29 to 0, the senate passed a bill already approved by the house, providing for the appointment of special policemen at Ohio University, Miami University, Ohio State University, Bowling Green, Kent State, Wilberforce and the Ohio Agricultural Experiment station.

The special officers would have power to arrest without warrant.
